

World Series—Play By Play

YANKEE STADIUM, New York City—Play by play account of seventh and deciding game of the 1947 World Series between Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees follows:

FIRST INNING

Dodgers—Stanky punched a single into right field. On the first pitch to Reese, Stanky was caught stealing on a fine throw from A. Robinson to Stirnweiss. Reese walked. J. Robinson lined to Henrich. Reese also was caught stealing. A. Robinson to Rizzuto.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Yankees—Stirnweiss lifted to Walker in short right. Hermanski took Henrich's fly in short left. J. Robinson slipped fielding Berra's grounder but recovered in time to toss underhand to Gregg for the out.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

SECOND INNING

Dodgers—Walker fouled to McQuinn. Hermanski tripled. Edwards rapped a single, scoring Hermanski. Furillo drilled a single into centre field, Edwards stopping at second. That was all for Shea and Bill Bevens, a right-hander, replaced him. Jorgensen lined a ground-rule double which skipped into the right field stands on one hop, scoring Edwards and sending Furillo to third. Gregg bounced to Rizzuto who whipped to A. Robinson, catching Furillo at the plate. Gregg reached first on the fielder's choice and Jorgensen made third. Stanky popped to Rizzuto.

Two runs, four hits, no errors.

Yankees—Furillo caught DiMaggio's high fly in centre. Gregg whipped over two strikes, then walked McQuinn with four straight balls. Stanky ran into short right field to catch Johnson's high pop. A. Robinson walked on four straight pitches moving McQuinn to second. Rizzuto bounced a single off Jorgensen's glove, McQuinn scoring and A. Robinson going to second. Bevens was called out on strikes.

One run, one hit, no errors.

robinson made a splendid glove-hand stop of Berra's hopper to his right and threw underhand to Behrman for the out.

Two runs, three hits, no errors.

FIFTH INNING

Dodgers—Joe Page took over the pitching duties for the Yankees. Stanky bounced out, Stirnweiss to McQuinn. Berra caught Reese's fly in right-centre. J. Robinson lined to Henrich in deep left.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—DiMaggio walked. Johnson sacrificed. Stanky threw out Johnson, DiMaggio moving to third. A. Robinson flied to Walker who made the catch a few feet in front of the right-field boxes close to the foul line.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

SIXTH INNING

Dodgers—DiMaggio raced into right-centre for Walker's drive. Ed Miksis, righthanded batter, went in to hit for Hermanski. Miksis tried a bunt but Johnson came in fast and with a lightning throw nipped Miksis in a close play at first. Edwards flied to DiMaggio.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—Miksis went to left field for the Dodgers. Rizzuto bunted safely along the first baseline for his third straight hit. Rizzuto stole second. Page struck out. Stirnweiss walked.

Joe Hatten, a lefthander, replaced Behrman. Henrich struck out. Al Clark, a righthanded hitter, batted for Berra. Clark punched a single into short centre on the first pitch, scoring Rizzuto with Stirnweiss stopping at second. That was enough for Hatten. He was replaced by Rex Barney, a righthander. DiMaggio flied to Furillo who made the catch in deep centre.

One run, two hits, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING

Dodgers—Clark went to right field for the Yankees. Furillo fouled to McQuinn just outside the first baseline. Harry Lavagetto, a righthanded hitter, batted for Jorgensen and popped to Stirnweiss in short right field. Gil Hodges, another righthanded hitter, made his first appearance of the series when sent to pinch.

Drastic Food Sacrifices
Demanded Of U.S. People

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here are the sacrifices President Truman and Charles Luckman, chairman of the Citizens' Food Committee, are urging on specific segments in the United States:

The public:

(A) Meatless Tuesdays, (B) poultryless and eggless Thursdays and (C) saving of one slice of bread a day by every American.

Public eating places:

(a) Co-operation in the meatless, poultryless and eggless days campaign and (b) the serving of bread and butter only when patrons ask for them.

Grain Exchanges:

An increase to at least one-third of their down payment, or margin, requirements on grain purchases. If they do not comply, Mr. Truman said, "the government may find it necessary to limit the amount of trading."

Distillers:

A complete 60-day shutdown at the earliest possible moment. (More than one-half the industry already has pledged a 50 per cent curtailment on corn and elimination of the use of wheat.)

Brewers:

A greater cut in grain consumption which they promised Saturday night, when two industry groups agreed to recommend that breweries stop using wheat and turn loose stocks they have on hand.

Bakers:

Unspecified grain-saving measures, both in manufacture and distribution of bread, which Luckman said will save up to 1-16 of the wheat they use.

Farmers:

Reduction in the amount of grain fed to livestock and poultry.

These proposals, part of the general effort to provide more food for the hungry peoples of Europe, were put forward in appeals broadcast from the White House Sunday night.

Chevrier Says New Ship Planned
For Lighthouse Tender Service

The federal transport department hopes to be able to call tenders sometime next year for the construction of a vessel to augment the fleet of lighthouse tenders on this coast, Federal Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier, said here today. Mr. Chevrier witnessed the launching this afternoon of the new Canadian National Steamships vessel Prince George at Yarrows Ltd.

On his third visit to the Pacific coast since he assumed office in April, 1945, Mr. Chevrier indicated that plans for the vessel, which will be a substantial ship yet not as large as the lighthouse tender Estevan which has been serving lighthouses on this coast for years, were not very far advanced but that he hoped provision would be made for the construction of the vessel in the 1948-49 federal government estimates.

It would not be necessary to have as large a vessel as the Estevan, Mr. Chevrier said, because modern construction made possible a smaller ship which could provide the same service.

While bids for the ship would be open to all shipbuilders in Canada, Mr. Chevrier said it was likely that the ship would be constructed on this coast as it was not practical to build ships in the east for service on the Pacific coast.

RADAR EXPERIMENTS

At the same time, Mr. Chevrier said that the transport department now was conducting experiments at Halifax in the use of shore radar installations to assist in operation of harbors.

If the experiments prove the shore radar equipment worthwhile, the department will probably make installations of it in the offices of all harbor masters at major ports of the nation, and later in all ports, Mr. Chevrier said.

Chevrier To Present
Report On Harbor

Report of E. L. Cousins, harbor commissioner for Toronto, who last summer studied what development was necessary to improve Ogden Point piers, will be presented to the city council at 10 Tuesday morning by Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier.

Mr. Chevrier, making this announcement today, declined to divulge details of the report which he said was lengthy. Publication of the report will be up to the city council, Mr. Chevrier said.

In making his survey, Mr. Cousins met with representatives of harbor committees of the city council and the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Chevrier said he would discuss details of the report with the council.

SINGAPORE (Reuter)—Nicolai Plakhin, Soviet trade representative in Singapore, who has been purchasing rubber for Soviet Russia, has been officially told that his visa will not be extended, the Straits Times reported Sunday.

HON. LIONEL CHEVRIER

He added that the department plans to have all its ships on the Pacific coast equipped with radar. Some of the department's ships and the ships of the Canadian National Steamships already have been equipped with radar.

Mr. Chevrier said that the Board of Transport Commissioners' hearing on the application of the Canadian National Railways for a 30 per cent boost in freight rates now was nearing the final phase and it was likely that a decision would be made by the board before the year's end. The hearing has been in progress since early this year.

Mr. Chevrier will remain in Victoria a couple of days.

Yarrows Scene
Of Launching Today

Flags fluttered under bright skies here today for the launching of the Canadian National's new $3,000,000 coast passenger liner Prince George at Yarrows Ltd. at 4 this afternoon. "She is the finest ship in the B.C. and Alaska service," Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier said.

For the launching leading Dominion and C.N. officials came to Victoria as this city celebrated the advent of the modern vessel to the busy B.C. coast. She is the first large passenger steamship to be constructed anywhere in the Dominion in the past 25 years.

Among the dignitaries invited to the launching were: Transport Minister Chevrier, whose wife is sponsor of the ship; R. K. Smith, K.C., chairman of the National Harbors Board; J. E. St. Laurent, vice-chairman of the board, and B. J. Roberts, commissioner of the board.

C.N.R. officials included: R. C. Vaughan, C.M.G., chairman and president of the C.N.; N. B. Walton, C.B.E., executive vice-president; B. L. Daly, member of the board of directors; Walter S. Thompson, C.B.E., director of public relations; Bernard Allen, general superintendent, B.C. district; Maj. J. L. Charles, chief engineer, western region; William Stapleton, passenger traffic manager, western region; G. A. MacMillan, superintendent, C.N. Steamships; W. Hately, general freight agent, and E. E. McLeod, general passenger, baggage and mail agent.

Among the ladies invited were: Mrs. Lionel Chevrier, Ottawa; Mrs. N. B. Walton, Montreal; Mrs. B. L. Daly, Montreal; Mrs. Grace Chevrier, Ottawa; Miss Marie Brule, Ottawa; Mrs. Bernard Allen, Vancouver, and Miss Lorraine Gougeon, Ottawa.

Accident Toll
Reaches 5 Dead,
4 In Hospital

Five persons are dead and four Victorians are in Nanaimo Hospital as a result of traffic accidents during the weekend.

The Greater Victoria fatal accident toll rose to five Sunday afternoon with the death of Alexander E. A. Brash, stoker petty officer of H.M.C.S. Rockcliffe, who was killed when he drove a borrowed motor-cycle off the docks and plunged 50 feet to the concrete bottom of Givenchy dry dock in Esquimalt.

Killed in the accident on the Malahat Drive Saturday when a truck loaded with railway ties turned over and caught fire were:

Charles Andrew Knight, 24, 621 Cornwall Street.

William Allen Stuart, 27, of 631 Pandora Avenue, whose family address is 5368 Main Street, Vancouver.

Lena Mary Lentz, 28, formerly of Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, who had been living in Victoria for some months at the Delhi Rooms, Yates Street.

Luther Holling, 77, 1569 Cedar Hill Crossroad, was instantly killed Saturday afternoon when a car which Saanich police say was driven by June Robinson, 18, of Box 1406 Glenford Avenue, collided with the side of his house and killed him while asleep in bed.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

At a special session of Saanich Police Court this morning a charge of manslaughter was read against Miss Robinson. She was remanded to Thursday. George Gregory appeared as defence counsel. The charge was changed from dangerous driving to the more serious one.

Four Victoria men were injured shortly before noon Sunday when the car they were in hit a telephone pole at Chase Creek, four miles south of Nanaimo. The injured, all in Nanaimo Hospital, as reported by provincial police are: Leslie Leacock, Malcolm Patterson, Bert Hertzog and Ralph White.

According to Chief of Police Gilbert Stancombe of Esquimalt, Brash, who had not been long married, was instantly killed in the plunge to the floor of the cement basin, which used to be known as the Esquimalt Drydock. He was riding the machine, borrowed from a friend,

Burned Beyond Recognition

The bodies of the other two, Stuart and Mrs. Lentz, were burned beyond recognition.

All three were in the cab of the truck, owned by the Dominion Fuel Company, Victoria. The truck which was loaded with railway ties was proceeding from Mill Bay to Ogden Point.

Stuart was employed by the company and is believed by police to have been driving. Mrs. Lentz and Knight were passengers.

While the truck was on the downgrade and in the process of negotiating the bend, indications are the chains holding the tie load snapped, the timbers driving forward in leaving the vehicle and flattening out the cab. The truck proceeded further down the road, then crashed into the embankment. The impact threw the truck over and exploding gas tank soon enveloped it, and the three occupants, pinned to the road by the vehicle, in flames.

The car being driven by Miss Robinson, according to Saanich police, was proceeding south on Shelbourne Street, failed to complete its right turn onto Cedar Hill Crossroad and shot across the road, through an ornamental ironworks fence into the side of the house numbered 1569.

Where the car crashed into the house Mr. Holling was asleep in bed. The front portion of the car crashed through the timbers, crushing the bed on which the man was sleeping. He was killed instantly, the car having to be moved to get the body out.

Donald E. Hawthorne, Lagoon Road, Colwood, owner of the car, was in the front seat of the sedan with Miss Robinson. They escaped unhurt.

Mr. Holling was born in Stockbridge, near Sheffield, Eng. He came to Canada in 1906, was in Winnipeg until 1923 and then

May Run Meat Plants

VANCOUVER (CP)—It was reported here today the Saskatchewan government may take over strikebound meat plants in the prairie province. Under a plan discussed by the cabinet during the week-end, the report said, the plants would be operated by union workers; the Saskatchewan government offering to meet union demands for higher wages.

Malahat Crash Victim

along the docks when the machine suddenly went over the side for the drop.

Tunnel Hill on the Malahat Drive, on the downgrade leading to Goldstream flats—about 14 miles from the city—presented a gruesome scene to Provincial Police who attended following the accident Saturday.

Suffering from missing limbs and severe burns about his whole body, Knight was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in a tourist's car. He died soon after. Before he died he spoke to his mother and blamed failure of the truck's brakes to function properly at the bend in the road as the cause of the accident.

Killed In Bedroom

went to Los Angeles and Houston, Texas, for a number of years, returning to Canada to live in Victoria in 1933.

He introduced ornamental iron work to Victoria at the Cedar Hill Cross Road address and was considered one of the finest in that art in the United States and England. He was active in Saanich affairs and at one time entered the election field, although he failed to get a council seat. He was an elder in the Metropolitan Church, a leading layman in the Victoria Presbytery and B.C. United Church Conference.

He is survived by his widow, Alice Anne (Dean), two daughters, Mrs. Harold F. Lord of Victoria and Mrs. Henry A. Stube of Houston, Texas; one brother, Rev. T. E. Holling, D.D., Victoria, a retired clergyman of the United Church, and three grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Holling celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Dec. 27, 1943.

Strike Threatens
In City Transport

Bus and streetcar operators for the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. transit services in Victoria will vote Wednesday on whether or not to strike to enforce their wage demands with the company.

Details of the strike vote, which will be supervised by the provincial labor department, are being worked out today.

Utilities Board
Approves Franchise
For Transit Here

The Greater Victoria transportation franchise, approved by municipal councils and ratepayers, today was approved by the Public Utilities Commission.

One more hurdle has yet to be made by the franchise before it can be put into effect. The franchise yet has to be approved by the Lieutenant-Governor in council, but this is considered to be automatic since the franchise has already passed the other hurdles.

"This will mean the unified transportation system will be in effect starting Nov. 1," said Alderman Harold M. Dignon, chairman of the Greater Victoria transportation committee.

The application was presented to the commission headed by Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman, this morning by W. C. Mainwaring, B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. vice-president in charge of Vancouver Island operations, and Harold Hushand, representing the Vancouver Island Coach Lines.

Supporting the companies' applications were Alderman Dignon, representing Victoria; R. F. Blandy, municipal clerk, representing Oak Bay; Reeve A. I. Thomas of Esquimalt and Councillor John Oliver of Saanich.

The commission's approval was immediate.

FORMALLY REVIVED

A LITTLE MORE THAN FOUR YEARS ago those nations which are now grouped within that association loosely termed the western world applauded the dissolution of the Comintern. In the midst of a titanic struggle against the forces of Hitler, Mussolini and Hirohito, partners in the Big Five alliance saw the directive from Moscow as further evidence of Russian willingness to submerge the disturbing concept of world revolution and so to present the Soviet Union to her co-belligerents that no reservations need be imposed on the common cause to which they were pledged. It had been hoped, however, that this attitude would survive the immediate postwar period and provide suitable ground in which to plant the seeds of enduring peace. Such was the hope in the hearts of men struggling for the victory of freedom four years ago.

How that concept has deteriorated in recent months is history. Incompatibility asserted itself almost with the birth of the United Nations at San Francisco. In "the affair Tito" the sharp division between democracy as it is viewed by the western powers and as it is practiced in realms under Communist domination became clearly delineated. Somersaulting disciples of the creed preached by the Politburo for a time pursued their confused courses in different "friendly" countries which had contributed to the overthrow of the Nazis and the Japanese. Then a return to the old party line began to manifest itself with painful clarity. The actions and speeches of Russian delegates to the United Nations meetings and more particularly to the Security Council, gave unequivocal evidence of the trend that had set in. The Azerbaijan issue, the Greek embroglio, the difficulties over Trieste, showed a similarity of line that indicated, if not the hand of a single artist, the work of students of a specific school of art.

In Italy and in France the return of the Communists to their primary principles became manifest. The Comintern was patently not dead. It had been put in cold storage only.

With the announcement that a new Communist Internationale has been established—took form, in fact, last month at Warsaw at a meeting of party leaders from Russia, France, Italy, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Romania, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Hungary—the revival that had been apparent was frankly avowed. What had been going on presumably under cover, now is exposed to the light. The issue is clearly drawn between the democratic form of government which is based on free enterprise and freedom of the individual and that which rests on the theory of a controlled state in which men, women and children are the servants, not the masters.

None will question the blocks Communists may place in the road to European reconstruction—a re-establishment which, as far as the west is concerned, depends for success largely on the aid the United States can give struggling countries in their efforts to help themselves. The admission, however, that the Communist Internationale has launched its no-compromise fight against what it chooses to call United States "imperialism," should do much to clear the minds of those who see in help from North America their foremost hope for survival as free countries. On this continent and abroad, the formal disclosure of the Comintern revival should put an end to woolly thinking—should emphasize the fact that on this side of the Atlantic a system is in working order which provides a higher standard of living than any other in the world. An appreciation of that fact furnishes a telling argument with which to refute the protestations of fellow travelers.

VICTORIA SYMPHONY

IN A COMMUNITY SUCH AS THIS, which prides itself on its appreciation of the arts, the challenge contained in the program of the Victoria Symphony should not go unaccepted. This organization, which seeks to meet the requirements of those citizens who believe the capital should be placed more emphatically in the forefront of musical activity, has arranged a series of six outstanding concerts for the season which will begin on Nov. 4. Two of these events will be given by the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Jacques Singer—a pleasing arrangement which should accent the harmonious relationships between Victorians and our friends across the Gulf.

The challenge contained in the schedule consists of an invitation to citizens of this community to demonstrate their readiness to give the champions of good music the support they require and deserve. A symphony orchestra is a definite acquisition to the cultural life of any centre. But it can thrive only as it attracts to itself the practical backing of the group to which it caters. In this instance, the Victoria Symphony needs the endorsement of the public in a very material form.

In the opinion of conductor Melvin Knudsen, Victoria can no longer delay in demonstrating appreciation for good music and in aiding the agency which promises to make possible that addition to the artistic life of the community. With him will agree all who see the importance of developing cultural standards here. The symphony is something in which Victorians as a whole should take a lively and sympathetic interest.

RECORD TRADE

FIGURES JUST RELEASED REVEAL that all records for tourist visitors have been broken this season, the influx having been double that of prewar years. At the same time, since limiting factors appear to have been the car ferry facilities and hotel accommodation, there are indications that improvement in these regards could result in a still larger volume in the years to come. Foreign cars entering at Victoria or Sidney were 32 per cent more numerous than last year, while Canadian cars increased by 52 per cent, according to the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau's report. The traffic, we learn, "would have been even higher had the transportation companies had sufficient facilities to bring more cars here."

Expansion of automobile-handling capacity by the C.P.R. and Black Ball Ferry lines, particularly the inauguration of regular service by the ferry "Chinook," played a large part in making the new record possible, but it appears that much can still be done on a mutually-profitable basis to cater to summer season traffic. Hotel crowding provided much the same story, although "nobody had to sit up." This was largely due to the efforts of private householders who opened their spare rooms to those who could not arrange for hotel or motor court accommodation. But it has been emphasized that this city has still not the volume of summertime accommodation that will be necessary if it is to improve its place as one of the leading tourist cities on the continent.

NOT READY YET

THE HOPES OF THOSE WHO OPTIMISTICALLY believe that the application of atomic power to industry is "just around the corner" will have received little encouragement from David E. Lilienthal, the chairman of the United States Atomic Energy Commission. The man who is in charge of development of this vast source of power says there is "a jungle of difficult scientific and engineering problems" to be overcome before a practical atomic plant can be put into operation. Success is "not just around the corner, nor around two corners," he said.

Lilienthal made his statement to put down rumors that the United States could solve Europe's heat and power problems this winter by making available its atomic secrets. Although the United States, Britain and Canada all have experimental atomic piles in operation there is much to be done before this source of power can be made commercially feasible. Experts have suggested that by 1970 British industry may be receiving power from this source. A $12,000,000 atomic research program now getting under way in Chicago may do much to speed the day; but without unforeseen progress, the present generation may see little more than the experimental stage of the Atomic Age.

'THE LADY, GOD BLESS HER'

MORE THAN IDLE CURIOSITY WILL be stimulated by the announcement of the International Institute of Artists and Photographers that Uncle Sam is to have a wife, Aunt Martha. The traditional lean figure in striped trousers, star-spangled vest and top hat requires a mate, in the opinion of the institute's director—because the American civilization is based on the family unit and "it is incongruous to show Uncle Sam by himself."

Singular as it may seem to the members of the institute, all civilizations have been based on the family. Biology stands on tradition that way. And no matter how other cultures and other ways of life may have attempted to discount the distasteful side, the female of the species has been a primary element.

Outsiders, accustomed to regarding the Statue of Liberty as a suitable feminine symbol of the United States, may be at a loss to understand the institute's insistence on a cartoonist's counterpart for Uncle Sam. If it is the wish of the people of the United States to have an Aunt Martha in the composite form of Actresses Jane Greer, Loretta Young and Linda Darnell (as suggested by the institute) rather than a Betsy Ross or a Barbara Fritchie, that is their business. But we are prone to remember that a cartoonist's figure is frequently mildly touched with ridicule. We have seen American references to "Uncle Sam" and European parodies on "Uncle Shylock." We have heard unkind Republican jokes on distinguished American women of Democratic persuasion. And we rather fancy an Aunt Martha will not escape some mild indignities.

But if the family concept is to be extended still further, and the group is to be rounded out by the American boy and his sister, may we put in a plug for Huckleberry Finn or Tom Sawyer and something a little less modern and transient than a bobby-soxer by Aunt Martha's daughter.

NOTES

If the man says he doesn't want to bother you, he means he is going to do it.

If we must worry about the woes of other lands, let us at least take steps everywhere to make our own land safe.

Walter Lippmann

THE COLD WAR

AT THE ROOT of Mr. X's philosophy about Russian-American relations and underlying all the ideas of the Truman Doctrine there is a disbelief in the possibility of a settlement of the issues raised by this war. Having observed, I believe quite correctly, that the United States cannot expect "to enjoy political intimacy with the Soviet regime," and that she must "regard the Soviet Union as a rival, not a partner in the political arena," and that "there can be no appeal to common purpose," Mr. X has reached the conclusion that all the United States can do is to "contain" Russia until Russia changes, ceases to be her rival, and becomes her partner.

The conclusion is, it seems to me, quite unwarranted. The history of diplomacy is the history of relations among rival powers, which did not enjoy political intimacy, and did not respond to appeals to common purposes.

NEVERTHELESS, THERE have been settlements. Some of them did not last very long. Some of them did. For a diplomat to think that rival and unfriendly powers cannot be brought to a settlement is to forget what diplomacy is about. There would be little for diplomats to do if the world consisted of partners, enjoying political intimacy, and responding to common appeals.

The method by which diplomacy deals with a world where there are rival powers is to organize a balance of power which deprives the rivals, however lacking in intimacy and however unresponsive to common appeals, of a good prospect of unsuccessful aggression. That is what a diplomat means by the settlement of a conflict among rival powers. He does not mean that they will cease to be rivals. He does not mean that they will be converted to thinking and wanting the same things. He means that, whatever their ideological purposes, the balance of power is such that they cannot afford to commit aggression.

IN THE AMERICAN conflict with Russia a policy of settlement—as I have sought to show—would aim to redress the balance of power, which is abnormal and dangerous, because the Red Army has met the British and American armies in the heart of Europe. The division between east and west is at that military boundary line. The meeting of those armies caused the division. No state in eastern Europe can be independent of the Kremlin as long as the Red Army is within it and all around it. No state in western Europe is independent while it is in effect in the rear of this military frontier. The presence of these non-European armies in the continent of Europe perpetuates the division of Europe. The Soviet government has been Communist for 30 years. For more than a hundred years all Russian governments have sought to expand over eastern Europe. But only since the Red Army reached the Elbe River have the rulers of Russia been able to realize the ambitions of the Russian Empire and the ideological purposes of Communism.

A GENUINE POLICY would, therefore, have as its paramount objective a settlement which brought about the evacuation of Europe. That is the settlement which will settle the issue which has arisen out of the war. The Communists will continue to be Communists. But if the Red Army is in Russia, and not on the Elbe, the power of the Russian Imperialists to realize their ambitions will have been reduced decisively.

Until a settlement which results in withdrawal is reached, the Red Army at the centre of Europe will control eastern Europe and will threaten western Europe. In these circumstances American power must be available, not to "contain" the Russians at scattered points, but to hold the whole Russian military machine in check, and to exert a mounting pressure in support of a diplomatic policy which has as its concrete objective a settlement that means withdrawal.

THEN WE SHALL KNOW what the United States is trying to do. The Russians will know it. Europe will know it. The United States will be trying to do a great thing which is simple and necessary: To settle the main actual consequences of this particular war, to put an end to the abnormal situation where Europe, one of the chief centres of civilization, though liberated from the Nazis, is still occupied by its non-European liberators.

The United States will be addressing herself to an objective to which her own power is suited—be it in diplomacy or in war. She will be seeking an end that all men can understand, and one which expresses faithfully her oldest and best tradition—to be the friend and the champion of nations seeking independence and an end to the rule of alien powers.

This is the final article in Mr. Lippmann's series on United States policy with respect to Russia. This series will be published in book form by Harper & Brothers in November. Mr. Lippmann is now in Europe. His column will be resumed in four weeks.

Repairs On The Foundation Would Help, Too

Bloc Settlement Block To Canadianism

By JAMES H. GRAY, From Winnipeg

AN English member of parliament arrived in Canada the other day with a novel settlement idea which he hoped to sell to the Canadian government. It was that British communities might be transported as units to Canada and transplanted here. The idea will serve to recall one of the worst mistakes made in the settlement of western Canada—the living off of immigrants into racial and national groups.

The bloc settlement of the west—the dumping of Ukrainian immigrants into one district, Poles into others, Germans into others—seemed like a good idea at the time, too. It was felt that new settlers, coming to a strange land, would feel more at home among their own kind. The language barrier would not be so difficult to hurdle. They would be able to help each other because they would know the ways of each other. They would be united by a common religion and a common tongue.

ASSIMILATION IMPEDED

All this was probably true. But what no one anticipated was that the bloc settlement plan would seriously impede the assimilation and the Canadianization of the new settlers. Yet that was what happened. Because the new settlers could get along without learning English, they were not impelled to learn it with the same compulsion that would have otherwise existed. Racial and national prejudice was kept alive instead of dying out.

In the last 15 years, assimilation has leaped ahead as second and third generations stemming from European immigrants emerge as thoroughly Canadian. The point is that this process was impeded for at least a generation by the bloc settlement system. And because there was this delay, forces were unleashed which tended to keep our people apart rather than bring them together.

LAND OF MINORITIES

The west, of course, is a land of minorities. People of Anglo-Saxon origin account for barely half of Manitoba's population, substantially less than half of the population of Saskatchewan and about half in Alberta. An ethnic map of the prairies would not be uniform. It would show districts in which Canadians of Ukrainian origin outnumbered all others. In others the dominant group would be of Germanic stock and few of Ukrainian origin. Still other areas would show a high percentage of British settlers.

One result of this has been the rise of the "nationalist" politician, a candidate who gets elected because he is of Ukrainian, Polish or German origin, not because he stands for some principle. He is elected to school boards, municipal councils, legislatures and Canadian Parliament because he has marshalled the support of his fellow nationalists. All political parties on the prairies are now competing for the "bloc" votes and nominate candidates they think can get them.

UNHAPPY FORCES

Though this development is put a passing phase of prairie

life, it has set forces in motion which are not good. It has made the people generally conscious of racial and national origins. If one group will vote for a candidate because he is a Ukrainian or a German, others will refuse to vote for him for same reason. Out of such a condition inevitably arises the organization of hatreds based on blind prejudice.

By far the most important harm done by the bloc settlement system has been the transplanting into Canada of dual loyalties. The Russian revolution settled nothing, as far as many Canadians of Ukrainian and Russian origin are concerned. They have been engaged in fighting it in the west for almost 30 years. On one side have been the Ukrainian Communists, who probably account for less than a fifth of the Ukrainian Canadians. On the other are the Ukrainian nationalists, who follow the will-o'-the-wisp of a "free Ukraine."

ULTIMATE RESULT

The ultimate fate of the Ukraine will of course be settled by the people living in the Ukraine, not those living in western Canada. Fortunately there are signs that there are other forces running their course. Among the third generation of all national groups are mounting numbers of young people who have but a single desire in life—to be Canadian without hyphens. Interesting them in the feuds of Europe is becoming increasingly difficult. Their Canadian patriotism is so strong that it can be almost read on their faces. The point is that this development was retarded immeasurably by bloc settlement.

The Gloved Hand Has Gone

By ALBERT MOUSSET

OUR present-day world is the scene of such a profusion of disorder that we have trouble grasping all the various aspects.

Territorial disputes, ideological antagonisms, the compelling urge of the colonial peoples for emancipation monopolize all our attention. But there is one revolution which, though less spectacular, is nevertheless destined to wipe out traditions as old as the world itself and to change the whole atmosphere of international life. It is the revolution in diplomatic manners.

TO SOFTEN NEGOTIATION

Courtesy was never an "obligation" in the sense in which jurists regard the word, but nonetheless it played an essential role in relations between the states. It was not, as is sometimes argued, a "social conception" of diplomacy, arising out of the fact that diplomats formerly belonged to the privileged classes of society. It was, despite certain facilities in protocol, a practice calculated to soften the atmosphere of negotiations, to treat a government's sensitive spots with care and, finally, and most important, to recognize a feeling of equality amongst all nations, small and large, victor and vanquished.

Thus were avoided, on the international stage, utterances that were too sharp, opinions that were too biting. It was Bismarck who said that a diplomat must accustom himself to setting aside his emotions completely.

RESPECT FOR DIGNITY

There was thus in the international courtesy of former years more than a mere concern for politeness. It was respect for the dignity of others, the art of considering the dignity of the weak, care not to embitter uselessly the discussion of a delicate problem.

Even before the Second World War, the intrusion of experts and "specialists" into diplomatic negotiations had changed their tone. In 1929, in the course of a conference, the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Philip Snowden, was able to term "grotesque and ridiculous" the arguments of his colleague, the French Finance Minister, without the incident's passing beyond the limits of an oratorical outburst.

VIOLENCE

Today we have gone much farther. The atmosphere of violence created by the war has been perpetuated in the peace. Responsible statesmen of both large and small nations discourse at length in terms, any one of which would formerly have sufficed to throw the world into a state of terror. Accusations of "imperialism," "hypocrisy," "blackmail," etc., have become current language. It is the projection, on the international scene, of present-day parliamentary manners and of passions unleashed by partisan ideologies.

We can deplore all this, but it would be vain to think that the world will ever return to the circumspect habits and concern for subtleties that characterized the old diplomacy. There are no longer expressions crude enough or words injurious enough to provoke an incident or even demand an explanation. Diplomatic insults no longer bring consequences.

IN ATOMIC AGE

And that ultimate respect for international protocol which was the "declaration of war" is itself disappearing from the law of nations. The revolution introduced into the art of war by the atomic bomb excludes the possibility of a warning, which would give the enemy the few minutes he would need to enable him to take the offensive.

So whether it is a question of peace or war, diplomacy no longer cares about formalities or considerations. It goes straight to the point, disdaining circumlocution and reticence.

It is a verbal revolution which reflects a complete change in the physical atmosphere surrounding international relations. It is difficult to see it as progress, or as regression.

WELL, now do the doubters finally understand that the Bolshevik world revolution for the establishment of Communism is really, under way?

If not, let them study Moscow's announcement by the Red conference in Poland and the establishment of a headquarters in Yugoslavia for co-ordination of the Bolshevik drive against American "imperialism." Call that organization by any name you will and you still have the old comintern—the Third Internationale or general staff for world revolution—which Moscow in 1943 trumpeted had been abolished, thereby quieting the fears of a lot of ill-informed wishful thinkers abroad.

The meeting in Poland was attended by representatives of the Communist parties of the Soviet Union—Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Italy and France. There you have the nations which either are communized and consequently are dominated by Russia or have strong Bolshevik parties. The new headquarters is being established in Belgrade, capital of Marshal Tito, who breathes, eats and sleeps as Moscow directs.

Andrei A. Zhdanov of Russia's powerful politburo presented the international situation as seen through Moscow's eyes. At the conclusion of the conference the delegates—inspired by Zhdanov's pronouncement—issued a joint statement which pointed out that two camps have been formed in the world, and then went on to define them thus:

"On the one side the imperialist and anti-democratic camp, which has for its essential aim the establishment of the world domination of American imperialism and the crushing of democracy, and on the other side the anti-imperialist and democratic camp, whose essential aim consists of enforcing democracy and liquidating the remains of Fascism."

OLD-FASHIONED REMEDY

Montreal Star
Here in Canada we pay higher wages for more production. The more coal a man digs, the higher his pay ought to be, and is. In Britain this solution has not been tried. If wages in the British coal mines are low—and they are—there is an answer to the British coal problem which has not yet been tried. Socialization, coaxing, cajoling, persuasion, five-day weeks, are all very well. But a lot more money in the pay envelope put there by increased output per man is a sound, old-fashioned remedy which is worth more than any of them.

THE BLESSINGS OF CAPITALISM

NEA Service
Nationalization of the coal industry is the cause of the "present unrest" among British miners, says an editorial in the United Mine Workers Journal. The U.M.W. paper states further that John L. Lewis' union has voted down all proposals for nationalization in the United States and that all it asks is "improved safety legislation."

It is a comfort to know that private ownership can be thanked for Mr. Lewis' tranquil contentment and modest demands at contract-negotiating time.

We never bought any 'chips' in that game, so why should we sit in?"
That's it—why sit in, when it's so much easier to sit out and kibitz, the while advising and criticizing?

HAMMERHEAD SHARKS FIGHT FIERCELY AGAINST BEING LANDED BY FISHERMEN

One of the ocean's strange fish is the large and dangerous hammerhead shark. It has a head which is formed into a broad lobe and which may remind one of the head of a hammer or croquet mallet. These sharks usually swim about the warmer seas, but some of them are found in the North Atlantic and North Pacific. They have been known to visit the New England shore. Below the strange head is a good-sized mouth with rows of small, sharp teeth.

Charles Holder, a widely known fisherman, was once angling for whitefish in a bay on the California coast. Suddenly the bait was seized and the fish line was broken. A moment later the fin of a shark appeared alongside the small flat-bottomed boat which contained Holder and a companion.

SNAPPED OFF HOOKS

New hooks were put on the line three times, but each time the shark snapped off the bait and the hook. As it came near the surface it was seen to be a large hammerhead. Two other men, fishing nearby, landed a small fish and placed it on a line which dangled in the water. The hammerhead swam toward it, but the small fish was jerked to the boat just in time.

Holder went ashore, obtained a heavy codline, and baited a large hook with a 10-pound fish. When he rowed back, he saw that the hammerhead was swimming through the midst of a group of small boats, and men were striking at it with oars and boat hooks. The hammerhead seemed not to mind this treatment. When Holder tossed in the 10-pound bait the shark seized it as soon as it fell into the water.

DRAWN TO KNEES

The line became taut, and Holder was dragged to his knees. He let out the reel, and the shark pulled the hook toward the bottom, 200 feet below. The line ran out, and the skiff was drawn downward until one side was almost under water. Holder kept a knife ready to cut the line if necessary, but, after sounding bottom, the fish began to swim toward the open sea. For a mile it pulled the skiff.

Oars were of little use in slowing down the outward course, but at last Holder and his comrade were able to pull in the line a little. Then it was let out and hauled in again. Holder found that he could halt the shark even when it lunged, but there seemed to be no hope of capturing the big fellow with a single skiff.

Other boats at length came to the rescue. They were tied to Holder's skiff, and by the united force of all the rowers, the hammerhead shark was dragged back into the bay, and was landed safely on the beach.

BOY HAD ADVENTURE

Another fisherman, Col. Hugh D. Wise, tells of an adventure he had during his boyhood. He was alone in a dory off the Virginia coast when a hammerhead seized a large hook which he had baited with a weakfish. The shark pulled hook, line, boat and boy at great speed past a fishing boat. A fisherman called, "Where are you going?"

"That was a useless question," says Col. Wise. "No one could have had less idea than I had of where I was going! I was on my way, however, and was going fast!"

The fishermen sailed to the rescue, and after a two-mile chase caught up with the dory. The hammerhead was then towed ashore, and the fishermen were almost as excited as the boy about the capture.

Policeman Off Duty

DETROIT (AP)—Even off duty Patrolman Harold Linfoot, 49, couldn't get away from lawbreakers.

Linfoot, out of uniform, was parking his car at the rear of his girl friend's apartment Sunday when three masked men held him up. Linfoot surrendered $80, and his friend, Cecile Booker, 28, gave up her purse and $2.

The gunmen, searching Linfoot's pockets, found an Italian war souvenir revolver. "You in this racket, too?" they asked. Assured he wasn't, the trio pushed Linfoot and Miss Booker into the trunk of the auto and disappeared. Patrolman Linfoot freed himself and hastened to telephone police.

When he got back his car was gone, too.

The DOCTOR Says:

HARD-OF-HEARING CHILD NEEDS SYMPATHY

By W. A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

The happiness of the hard-of-hearing child at home depends on how well his parents understand his handicap and help him to overcome it.

Laila Larson of the University of Minnesota Speech Clinic, warns parents to praise their child's efforts to speak, even though they may not understand him too well. She also urges them to get his attention by clapping their hands or tapping their foot before speaking to him.

Speak in a natural voice, as this gives him the best opportunity to read your lips. Face the light when you speak, and never point to anything while you are talking, for this distracts the child and causes his eyes to wander. Learn the words which are easiest for him to understand and use them in preference to ones requiring more complicated lip movements.

Hard-of-hearing children are under great strain, and should be given a chance to rest often. Hold the child on your lap and sing to him, provide him with musical toys, urge him to listen to the radio, tell him stories in which sound effects are used so he may learn to interpret vibrations.

Be firm in your discipline, but give the child the benefit of the doubt, as he may not have understood. Have great patience in dealing with him. Make him feel that he has nothing to fear, that you love him as you do your other children. Treat him as a normal member of the family and help him to be self-reliant.

MEDICAL HELP ENDS

They deserve the best medical care that we can provide, but after their ear condition has become stationary, we must not expect further help from medical sources. If, as soon as the hearing loss is discovered, school and home co-operate in a program which will teach the child efficiently, he will make a satisfactory adjustment and be happy.

Many young children wear hearing aids today, and, if properly fitted, they help them to hear. They should be taught lip reading and kept in school with normal children whenever possible. Unfortunately, many hard-of-hearing children are not discovered until they have had humiliating experiences and school failures.

Purse Was Taken While Tagging

While Mrs. J. Leask, 1126 Johnson Street, was doing her bit to provide food for hungry Britain by selling tags for the "Mayor's Fund" Saturday afternoon, someone stole her purse which she had placed on the pavement while pinning a tag on a donor's lapel.

Mrs. Leask was operating at one of the corners of Douglas and Fort Streets. To make her sale she put the purse against a lamp post and when she went to retrieve it the purse was gone. It contained personal articles and $20.

Advising Germans

Lt.-Col. C. W. Barker, son of Mrs. F. Barker, 1902 Cook Street, resident officer for Duesseldorf, holding office under the British Control Commission as adviser to local German administrations.

DUESSELDORF, Germany (CP)—From an elderly German couple, Lt.-Col. C. W. Barker, Victoria, B.C., received a laudacious letter pleading for a cup of coffee and one pipe of tobacco on their golden wedding anniversary.

As resident officer for the British Control Commission in Duesseldorf, Col. Barker receives hundreds of requests for assistance.

This one read: "Dear and most kind sir, Would you be so generously forgiving as to help us in our small celebration? ... just one pipe of good tobacco for myself and a good cup of coffee for my wife after our evening meal. ..."

The colonel said he had taken steps to meet the request.

7-Year Mystery Still Unsolved

NORTH BAY, Ont. (CP)—Somewhere along the lonely stretch of highway between North Bay and Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., lies the answer to a mystery that was seven years old last Saturday.

A North Bay couple started along the 250-mile stretch of road Oct. 4, 1940, on the first lap of a trip to Winnipeg, and they and their 1938 model blue sedan vanished as completely as if the earth had swallowed them.

Widespread police search for Mr. and Mrs. Earl D. Kirk has uncovered a new mystery—a few strands of human hair pulled out of Red Cedar Lake, 40 miles north of here, but the lake divulged no further secrets and the find was not connected with the Kirsks.

The couple's four children, left in a housekeeper's care when their parents started on the holiday trip, are believed to be living with relatives in Winnipeg. Any time after today a court may declare their parents legally dead and transfer their estate to a guardian's care.

3,100,000 Still Missing

HAMBURG (Reuter)—The statistical office of Wuertemberg-Baden estimates that 1,500,000 known German prisoners of war and 1,600,000 soldiers whose fate is not known—a total of 3,100,000—have not yet returned to their country, the German news agency in the British zone reported today.

Information For War Veterans

Many interesting points regarding medical treatment for war veterans is contained in No. 7 of a series of eight articles released by the Department of Veterans' Affairs.

Medical treatment entitlement comes under several headings: Class 1—veterans having pension entitlement may have treatment, for their pensionable condition only, for the rest of their lives; class 2—those discharged from the services, direct to D.V.A. for treatment; class 3—honorable discharges, qualify for treatment for 365 days following discharge. Beyond these three main classes there are others which require a decision in each particular case.

After the one-year care given a veteran his medical care is his own responsibility. However, treatment is extended for over the year for veterans receiving courses or for those on treatment strength at the end of their post-discharge year.

The department says a veteran may get treated by his own doctor at the expense of the D.V.A. There is a free choice of doctors covering the 365-day period following discharge. Pensioners may only be treated by a doctor of their choice for pensioned conditions on D.V.A. authority.

WHERE TO GO

Veterans applying for treatment should, if able, call at the medical report centre in the Belmont Building here and take discharge certificates and any other pertinent data.

If they are under treatment by family doctors, this does not prevent them from going to D.V.A. hospitals. Frequently attending doctors refer patients to veterans' hospitals for further investigation or treatment. "When he returns to his hometown, complete reports are forwarded to his own doctor so that any further treatment required may be continued. In most cases D.V.A. prefers to have patients treated in departmental hospitals."

The Canadian Pension Commission, Shaughnessy Hospital, Vancouver, is the place where veterans write for information regarding disability pension. The department does not provide maternity care for veterans' wives or medical treatment for their dependents. Only qualified veterans are eligible.

Dental treatment is provided for one year following discharge.

In answer to the question what provisions are there for treatment of veterans not eligible under classes 1, 2 and 3? the department says:

"A veteran in financial distress may receive treatment under certain conditions. Also, there is provision for the care of a veteran who may become totally and permanently incapacitated from a standpoint of gainful employment."

D.V.A. is responsible for treatment of TB. cases. However, as the department believes the best possible treatment for tuberculosis is that provided by the Provincial Department of Health, TB. patients are referred to its sanatoria for active treatment as soon as diagnosis is established.

Buses To Replace Streetcars On 4 City Lines Nov. 1 Next

Abandoning of streetcar lines serving the Hillside, Gonzales, Cloverdale and Burnside areas and replacement by buses will comprise the major step in the first part of the transformation of Victoria's transportation system as the new franchise becomes effective Nov. 1, it was reported today by B.C. Electric officials, following announcement that the Public Utilities Commission had approved the new franchise agreement.

W. C. Mainwaring, vice-president of the B.C. Electric, and Harold Husband, managing director of the Vancouver Coach Lines, said the first steps of the changeover would be taken on Nov. 1 or as close to that date as the availability of equipment now on order would permit.

The operating heads of the companies stated everything possible was being done to insure delivery of equipment by the effective date of the franchise but pointed out that under the terms of the agreement a period of 18 months was permitted for completing the new system.

In outlining the details of the transformation, H. R. Halls, B.C. Electric transportation manager, said there would be four distinct moves in the first of the progressive steps which would mark the changeover. He enumerated these as follows:

1. The present Hillside-Gonzales streetcar line will be discontinued and will be replaced with the following bus service: From a loop of Hillside, Doncaster, Burton and Gosworth, proceeding via Hillside, Douglas, Fort, Cook, May, Linden, Dallas, Bushby, George, returning via Moss and May Streets.

2 Victoria Men Decorated Here

C.G.M. K. BARKER

C.S.M. C. W. WILKINS

Two Victoria naval men were decorated with the British Empire Medal for meritorious service at H.M.C.S. Naden Saturday afternoon. They were Chief Stoker Mechanic Christopher W. Wilkins, 532 Selkirk Avenue, and Chief Gunner's Mate Kenneth Barker, 525 Paridise Street.

Commodore J. C. I. Edwards, C.B.E., R.C.N., presented the medals to the two men. The awards were for their "exemplary energy, efficiency and unswerving devotion to duty."

C.P.O. Wilkins, formerly of Ottawa, has been a resident of Victoria for more than 20 years and is at present on rehabilitation leave prior to his retirement after 23 years' service in the R.C.N. He holds the Long Service and Good Conduct Medal.

C.P.O. Barker is a veteran of 13 years' service in the R.C.N. and has lived in Greater Victoria for 21 years. His brother, Douglas Barker, 1456 Denman Street, holds the Distinguished Service Medal.

Both C.P.O. Wilkins and C.P.O. Barker served in British cruisers during 1943 and 1944, and fought with the 4th Cruiser Squadron of the British Pacific Fleet aboard H.M.C.S. Uganda during the attacks on the Sakishima's Truck and the Japanese mainland.

This route will be known as the Hillside-South Fairfield route.

2. The present Richardson-Fairfield belt line will be discontinued and the Richardson Street section of this route will be linked with Victoria West to give a through town service via Government Street.

This route will proceed from the Victoria West terminus at the Gorge bridge via Tillamook, Craigflower, Russell, Langford, Esquimalt, Bay, Government, Humboldt, Blanshard, McClure, Vancouver, Richardson, St. Charles, Despard, Richmond, Quamichan, Foul Bay, to Fairfield, where the buses will turn around at the present Gonzales terminus and return.

3. The Gonzales area is to be served by a new route to be known as the Gonzales line, operating temporarily out of Douglas, B.C.E.R. depot, via Douglas, Humboldt, Rupert, Southgate, Cook, Oscar and Fairfield to St. Charles. Alternate buses will proceed via Fairfield, Beach Drive, Falkland Road to Central Avenue, looping via Central, Victoria Avenue, McLaren Avenue and return; and via St. Charles, Ross, Crescent Road, Quimper Avenue and return.

4. The Burnside section of the present Burnside-Estevan streetcar line and the Cloverdale-Outer Wharf streetcar line will be abandoned and these two sections will be served by increased service over the Vancouver Island Coach Lines routes now operating in these areas.

The Estevan and Outer Wharf streetcar lines will be linked together as a through town service, operating via Government, Yates, Douglas and Fort Streets through the city.

Youthful Lovers Freed Of Charge Of Double Slaying

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP)—Heiress Louise Overell, 18, and her 21-year-old former lover, George (Bud) Gollum, were freed Sunday night of charges of murdering her wealthy parents, financier and Mrs. Walter E. Overell, ending the longest criminal trial in United States court history.

Scout Commissioner In City Tuesday

Jackson Dodds, C.B.E., Montreal, who last April was elected Dominion Commissioner of the Boy Scout Movement, is now on a tour of the western provinces and will be in Victoria to confer with scouting officials here tomorrow night, it has been announced.

He will be accompanied by Lt. Col. George E. Simmons, M.B.E., Ottawa, executive commissioner for administration at Dominion Scout Headquarters. Both men have just attended a meeting of the Dominion Executive Committee of the Canadian Boy Scout Council in Winnipeg.

Mr. Dodds last visited Victoria in 1945 while serving as chairman of the Central Council of the Canadian Red Cross Society. Former general manager of the Bank of Montreal, Mr. Dodds is associated with many national organizations. He is an honorary life governor of the Royal Life Saving Society, London, England.

Passenger Fare Boosts Announced

MONTREAL (CP)—A spokesman for the Canadian National Railways said today rail passenger fares had been increased over the week-end by Canadian roads, affecting mostly traffic between eastern and western Canada. He said the increase was not general and applied only in areas affected by competitive United States lines which had increased fares earlier in the year.

The spokesman said that in some instances the increases were first-class fares, and in others in coach fares. Also, some east-west fares had been increased to bring them equal to the west-east fares between the same points.

A building permit has been issued Famous Players Corporation to place an $8,000 neon sign on the Dominion Theatre.

Notice to Saanich Taxpayers

Saanich Taxpayers are reminded to pay their taxes not later than Friday, October 10th, 1947, to avoid penalty. 2% penalty will be added to current taxes on Monday, October 13th, 1947.

For the convenience of Taxpayers, the Municipal Hall will remain open until 7:30 p.m., on Friday, October 10th, 1947.

F. STANLEY GREEN, Collector, Saanich Municipality.

Esquimalt, City Building Increases; Others Show Slump

Only Esquimalt and the city continue to show an increase in building this year over the same period in 1946. Oak Bay and Saanich building has slumped considerably, and the rate of increase in the city and Esquimalt is slowing down.

Total to the end of September in the city is $4,613,838, compared with $3,602,345 in 1946. During September this year the value was $450,407, compared with $381,079 last year. This September's figures include permits for 58 houses, 50 of them for war-time housing.

In Saanich 858 permits have been issued for $2,157,850 worth of building, including 434 houses valued at $1,873,720. For the nine-month period last year 873 permits were issued for $2,581,781, including 458 houses valued at $2,080,079. During September 138 permits were issued for $276,900, including 54 houses, $222,200; and last September 105 permits were issued for $200,795, including 45 houses, $257,325.

In Oak Bay to date 143 permits were issued for $532,757, including 62 permits for houses worth $426,830. For the same period last year 193 permits were issued for construction valued at $759,142, including 102 permits for houses worth $654,523.

During September 19 permits were issued for $80,724, including five for houses, $44,800. Last September 25 permits were issued for $113,745, including 15 houses, $91,760.

In Esquimalt home building was the main feature of the 114 permits issued for $394,540. Last year 108 permits were issued for $386,659. Twelve permits, eight for houses, were permits issued for $39,540, and last September there were six permits for $16,320.

A meeting of the Patricians' Association will be held Oct. 17 at 8 in the Army, Navy and Air Force clubrooms. Matters of urgency have to be discussed.

Tag Day Nets $3,412

The tag day for the Mayor's Fund for Parcels to Britain Saturday netted $3,412.70, and Mayor Percy George paid tribute to all who worked on the tag day collections, as well as thanking those who contributed.

This brings the fund up to $14,611, and will provide several hundred Christmas parcels to commemorate the wedding of Princess Elizabeth and Lieut. Phillip Mountbatten. The fund is still open at the City Hall, and all money collected up until Nov. 20, the wedding date, will be used for the wedding gift parcels.

Well-Known City Singer Visits Here

Leaving the city after a brief three-day visit, W. Vaughan Jones, former resident and well-known as a singer here, returned to his home in Hollywood, Calif., this afternoon.

Mr. Jones first came to the city in 1913, but the First World War took him back to Europe with the 113th battalion. Returning after hostilities had ended, he sang at the opening of the Capitol Theatre in 1921. Mr. Jones was a frequent performer on Sunday night concerts here and also sang at the Cyro conventions in the early 1920's.

Mr. Jones has been the vice-president of the International Cocoa-Chocolate Co. of Holland for the past 15 years.

Mr. Jones' wife, the former Evelyn Dutot, here with her husband, is a former May queen.

How To Announce Government's New Policy On Housing

OTTAWA (CP)—A new policy to help overcome the housing shortage has been approved by the cabinet, it was learned here today.

There was no information on just what action has been decided, but it probably will be based on the wartime housing scheme. The new policy comes after representations from various bodies across the country and probably will be announced by Reconstruction Minister Howe during an address Friday to the Canadian Club in Vancouver.

Last month the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities told the government that housing for low-income families was a national emergency and proposed a seven-point Dominion-wide plan it believed would meet the crisis. The plan included credit with which low-income families might own a home and subsidization of a low-rental housing plan.

Similar proposals have been made by the Canadian Welfare Council and the Canadian Legion.

Jackson Dodds, Ottawa, Dominion boy scout commissioner, will arrive in Victoria next Monday and will address members of the Victoria and District Boy Scout Association Oct. 14 at 8 in the Johnson Street headquarters of the association, Freeman King, field commissioner, reported today.

C.C.F. Youth Group
Maurice Simpson was re-elected president of the Victoria Co-operative Commonwealth Federation Youth Movement at the third anniversary banquet of the organization held at Woodworth Hall. Fred Baker was elected vice-president, Florence Martin secretary, and Clarence Moscrip treasurer.

Other officers elected are:

Harold Taylor, organizer; Frank Mitchell, education chairman; Margaret Eley, social convener; Peggy Mackay, publicity chairman, and Bob Perrson, sports director.

Miss Margaret Carr spoke on the responsibilities of citizenship. Mrs. Florence Jane, club advisor, reviewed achievements of the past year.

Motor To Brandon On Honeymoon Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Harold I. Burgess, whose marriage was solemnized by Rev. E. W. Robinson at Glad Tidings Tabernacle Saturday evening, will spend their honeymoon motoring to Brandon, Manitoba, to visit the bride's parents, and will return to Victoria through the United States, by way of California.

The bride, the former Phyllis Elaine Ashby, is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Ashby of Brandon, and the groom the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Burgess, Victoria.

In the absence of her father, the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Ted Ashby, and chose a gown of white slipper satin, styled with leg-o-mutton sleeves, tapering to lily-points, with V-shaped neck and draped bodice. The full skirt, slightly en train, was finished with bustle effect. An embroidered floor-length veil was held by a sweet-heart headress, and she wore a gold locket-bracelet, the gift of the groom. Her flowers were red roses and gardenias.

As matron of honor, the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Evelyn Ashby, wore white net over taffeta with mauve net mitts and headress. To complete the all-white bridal party Miss Mae Muschamp, bridesmaid, wore white net over sheer, complemented by yellow mitts and headress. The attendants carried arm bouquets of yellow and peach gladioli, respectively.

Glen Burgess, brother of the groom, was best man, and ushers were Bill Colvin and Eyered Thomas.

During the signing of the register, Miss Frances Sim sang "Be-cause."

At a reception at Cherry Bank Hotel, Mrs. J. W. Burgess and Mrs. W. Howe received the guests with the bridal couple, and Mr. G. Howe gave the toast to the bride.

For the honeymoon the bride wore a dress of candy-stripe jersey silk with beige topcoat, chocolate brown accessories and rosebud corsage. On their return the couple will reside in Victoria for the present.

To Look Poised Sit Gracefully

Barometer of your poise is your ability to sit gracefully. Jerky movements and nervous mannerisms, such as foot tapping, foot twisting or tugging at clothes, indicate a lack of self-confidence. You'll look bored and ungainly if you drop into a chair like a dead weight, slump back against the cushions and sling one leg over the other.

What promotes a poised and graceful appearance are smooth, disciplined movements. To sit gracefully, keep one foot a normal step length directly behind the other, turn on the balls of the feet and lower your body slowly into the chair. This controlled motion not only seats you with a minimum of flutter, but it encourages clothes to fall in graceful folds instead of bunching up underneath you.

Sit so that hips touch the back of the chair. This position permits you to lean back comfortably without slumping. Knees, ankles and feet, of course, should be kept close together. If you cross your legs, cross them high enough so that the foot of the crossed leg points down to the floor.

When you rise don't hoist yourself out of the chair with your arms. Instead, lean forward from the hips, distribute your weight on both feet and let your leg muscles push you up.

Fashion Collars

Collars that climbed the necks of 19th century dandies will tower from feminine throats this fall.

Neckwear sported by Dickens' dandies in the days of his "Great Expectations" has inspired a collar fashion which has broken out like a rash in fall collections.

This collar, in which a face can be coyly hidden, rises from blouses, gilets, dresses, coats and suits.

Examples of what a dandy's upjutting collar can do to distinguish coats and suits are shown above. On the suit of wine-colored wool at left, there's a black Persian lamb collar wired to stand up on its own. The exaggerated cut adds style flair to a straight-hanging cutaway jacket, which designer Paul Farnes combines with a peg-topped skirt and a back-buttoned black satin blouse.

The Dickensian collar goes high, wide and handsome on the tight-bodied princess coat of scarlet wool at right. This coat, also Paul Farnes-designed, is ensembled with a cap-sleeved dress of sheer black wool.

Dorothy Dix

UNPOPULAR BEAUTY

Dear Miss Dix: I am a girl of 17 and very beautiful. I know this because my mother keeps telling me so. I also have a pleasing personality, but I am not popular with girls. I don't know why this is because I try to help them by telling them how to wear their hair and put their make-up on. Also I give them hints as to how my hair got so long and beautiful and shiny, but when I do they make me feel like two cents.

My mother says they are just jealous. She says I should go with girls who would appreciate me. She calls me "Princess," and that is the way I sign myself. PRINCESS.

Answer: Well, my dear Princess, if you are waiting to find girls who will go around kowtowing before you and telling you how beautiful and wonderful you are and how superior to themselves, you are destined to have a pretty lonely time of it. And though you should live to be as old as Mrs. Methuselah, you will never find a single girl, or woman, who will be grateful to you for your advice on how to imitate you and make themselves as attractive as you think you are.

It takes a mighty dumb female and one with little knowledge of her sex to ever tell another woman to her face that her taste in dress is perfectly awful, and that she should do something about her complexion. They are the things that you say behind your friends' backs.

Perhaps, dearie, you are as beautiful as your mother says you are, though mothers are not good authorities on the subject. But you have one blemish that offsets all of your good looks, and that is vanity. And you will never be popular with girls if you think yourself so superior that you can patronize them.

Modesty is a virtue that most becomes a girl. Try it.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a troubled young man who is very much in love with the girl to whom I am engaged. My family object very much to my marrying her. When I ask why, they say that I don't know anything about her background, or anything about her family. But I think that after going with this girl for a year and a half that I know all that I care to know about her, and that I can love her as she is and forget about her background, whatever that may be.

Do you think I should give up this girl with whom I am deeply in love, or not?
TROUBLED YOUNG MAN.

Answer: Well, I am pretty strong for family backgrounds myself, and I think that every youth and maiden who contemplate marriage should make a thorough investigation of what kind of people they are electing to spend the balance of their lives with.

Of course, the infatuated youngsters say they are marrying John and Mary, not their fathers and mothers. But that isn't true. Everybody is married to his in-laws. There is heredity to begin with, and breeding counts for as much in people as it does in animals. Every child "takes after" its ancestors, and I would certainly want to know that my little Jimmie or Susie came of good, clean, honest stock.

Then there is environment. The homes we are brought up in set their mark upon us. Few of us are ever strong enough to break away from the tastes and habits that were fastened on us in childhood. I wouldn't want to marry into a family of drunkards or gamblers or ne'er-do-wells, or in which the husband and wife fought together, in which there was no decent housekeeping, no thrift or order. One child in a thousand may rise above being reared under such conditions, but the other 999 follow the pattern that has been set them.

So I advise this troubled young man at least to take a squint at the background of the girl he thinks he is in love with.

HISTORIC MEDICAL HIGHLIGHTS—No. 24

LISTER'S —GREAT LEGACY—

HISTORIC turning point in the battle against death and disease was August 12, 1865, when Lister soaked a dressing on a boy's crushed leg with carbolic acid. Usual treatment at that time would have been amputation. This act tested Lister's theories that infection and disease were transmitted by unseen organisms, frequently introduced by doctors themselves. Four days later, the injury was found to be free of infection... a fact that led to today's aseptic and antiseptic surgery that permits healing measures to be taken without amputation or risk of infection.

The cleanliness that is synonymous with medicine and its practice is our watchword, too. Every precaution is taken in our prescription department to assure the purity of your doctor's prescriptions.

Check-up Child's Shoe Size

A child's feet are capable of astonishing growth between May and September. That's why podiatrists warn mothers to be careful about putting youngsters' feet back into school shoes which finished their term last spring.

Summer exercise has helped to promote growth of feet, these experts say. They also point out that bare-footed activity during the vacation months frequently causes changes in the shape of growing feet.

For these reasons, a new check-up on shoe size and last for your child is urged, a service which reliable shoe stores will obligingly perform.

As for the kind of shoes needed for growing feet, experts insist upon sturdy, well-made oxfords with strong but supple uppers. To provide shape-retaining support for tender arches, flexible leather soles are needed.

The kind of shoes which should not go to school, according to our experts, are sneakers and other flimsy footwear designed for play. These shoes are not intended for treks on hard pavements, and, if worn for such, may cause disabilities.

Facials Benefit Mature Woman

We frequently hear women complain that the trouble with this or that beauty practice is the need to keep it up. Facials are invariably a case in point.

"If facials are to be of any value," women say with a shrug, "you have to keep them up." Of course you do. But what is there that a woman does to improve her looks which doesn't have to be "kept up"? Manicures have to be. Else nails go to pieces.

Hair that isn't washed and set regularly suffers as sad a plight. Make-up is applied every day by the woman who is particular about the way she looks.

So why should facials—needed by every woman who wants to keep the marks of age off her skin—be expected to escape a routine of regularity any more than other beauty practices?

The care of the skin—which is what a facial is—should be considered as important by the older woman as a regular manicure, make-up and shampoo-and-set.

Says Citizens' Aid Needed For Planning

MONTREAL (CP)—Citizens' committees should actively participate in community planning, not merely wait for experts or specialists to prepare plans for their approval and support, Eric Thrift, director of the metropolitan plan of Greater Winnipeg, today told the national convention of the Community Planning Association of Canada.

"Citizen participation is accepted as a healthy condition in planning in any community," said Mr. Thrift, adding: "It is merely an extension or application of the democratic process to municipal or civic foresightedness."

An established policy in Winnipeg, he said, was to seek the aid of citizens through citizen advisory committees.

Citizen participation in planning also meant a gain for technical staffs, explained the Winnipeg planning expert.

"After working with a committee the technician often has greater confidence in the plans which are developed than if they were solely his own work."

Other advantages in this system, he said, were the straightening out of basic misconceptions and the revealing of unforced criticism which enabled the planning organization to be on guard against sectionalism.

A Couple Of Prospective Recruits For Navy

—R.C.N. Photo.

It would appear that the Royal Canadian Navy can count on a couple of recruits in a few years' time when Clifford and Keith Allan of Victoria reach enlistment age. In the meantime they are seen taking advantage of Navy Week in Esquimalt to have their picture taken with PO. S. Birch under the forward turret of H.M.C.S. Ontario.

Gallup Poll

Parents Find Boys Much Easier To Raise Than Girls

By American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N.J.—Do parents have a harder time bringing up boys or bringing up girls?

That's been a subject of argument in many a household. To find out what parents themselves, and prospective parents, really think about it, a nation-wide survey was conducted on the question:

"Which do you, yourself, think is easier to raise—a boy or a girl?"

The weight of opinion leans toward boys as easier to raise than girls. Here's the vote of all people questioned, both parents and non-parents: Boys easier to bring up, 42%; girls easier, 23%; no difference, 24%; no opinion, 11%.

How about parents who have children of both sexes and have therefore had experience with boys and girls? Their reaction is almost the same as the rest of the country. By nearly 2 to 1 they vote boys easier to raise than girls. The percentages follow: Boys easier to bring up, 40%; girls easier, 22%; no difference, 35%; no opinion, 3%.

Boys are easier to bring up, parents say, for the following reasons: They require less care and attention, they are not as expensive, they have fewer social problems, and they are apt to be less emotional and temperamental.

On the other hand, parents who think girls are easier to raise give these reasons: Girls are more obedient, they aren't as rough and noisy, and they are more easily contented, less demanding and ambitious than boys.

Mental Hospitals Lack Trained Nurses

OTTAWA (CP)—The concluding session of the second Dominion-provincial mental health conference here at the week-end was told there is a need for improved educational facilities for nurses training to work in mental hospitals.

Elsie C. Ogilvie, who recently completed a survey of mental institutions in Canada for the health department, said not only was there a shortage of nurses in the institutions but there was also a shortage of facilities to give the nurses proper training.

The population of Canada's mental hospitals had increased 50 per cent during the past 15 years, yet there were 200 fewer registered nurses and 400 fewer non-registered nurses in the institutions.

Armless, Legless Woman Exhibits Her Paintings

TORONTO (CP)—Born without legs and lower arms, Kathleen Hart, 31-year-old Byron, Ont., artist, presented her first exhibit of paintings Friday at a local gallery.

Miss Hart has overcome her physical handicaps and has created a collection of 32 oil paintings of Canadian flowers and still-life which are described as "one of the artistic miracles of our age" by Gordon Payne, O.S.A., her instructor. The paintings colorfully reflect the bright nature of the artist who, despite having no legs or lower arms, has trained herself to knit, sew, cook and wash dishes.

2 Cases Of Polish Treasures Still Held In Ottawa Bank

OTTAWA (CP)—Two cases containing some of the missing Polish state treasures are still held in the vaults of the Bank of Montreal branch on Wellington Street across from the Parliament Buildings in downtown Ottawa, it was learned reliably at the week-end.

But the Polish legation here, representative of the present recognized Warsaw government, is unable to claim them until it obtains the signature of one missing man. The signature is necessary before the bank will release the cases.

This man is understood to be the mysterious, unnamed Polish custodian of the treasures who is believed by Polish sources here to be the only person who knows where the whole vanished treasure, packed in 32 other cases, was hidden after the 32 cases had been removed from convents in Ottawa and Quebec.

Meanwhile, a Warsaw dispatch said a Polish government spokesman announced that legal experts were to be called on to assist in recovery of historic Polish treasures taken to Canada during the war.

"We will ask specialists in international law to take up legal measures against these gangsters, whoever they may be," the spokesman added.

Fleischmann Designed Yacht Haida

The luxury yacht, Haida, visiting Victoria during the week-end, is the embodiment of the ideas of one man... her owner, Maj. Max Fleischmann, the yeast king.

To get his dream-ship built, Maj. Fleischmann gave all his ideas to the man who would be the vessel's master, Capt. D. Welch, a Californian. Capt. Welch put the ideas on paper, took them to Bath, Maine, and there supervised the construction of the vessel, which was launched earlier this year.

Maj. Fleischmann did not even see his new ship until she sailed around to Santa Barbara. "He won't have anything to do with details. He says, 'This is the way I want it... now do it,'" Capt. Welch said in an interview here. When the owner did see his new ship, it was all that he had meant it to be.

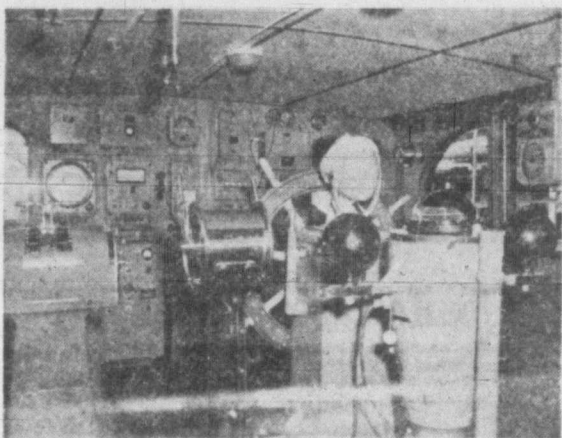

The whole ship is glass-insulated, even the hull, including those from the engine-room, are well muffled. Her wheelhouse is a master mariner's heaven, filled with the most modern and complete navigational aids obtainable... radar, ship-to-shore radio telephone, fathometers, an automatic pilot and a bristling array of other equipment.

In addition to the standard engine-room telegraph system, the 168-foot yacht is equipped for controlling the engines direct from the wheelhouse. Two powerful diesel engines, covered with spotless cream paint, give the luxury craft a cruising speed of about 15 knots.

The most important part of the ship, however, is the rod room, around which the whole ship was built, according to Capt. Welch. Here the millionaire sportsman has an elaborate and complete set of fishing rods, reels and other tackle. The room is equipped for fly-making, many of which Maj. Fleischmann designs himself.

For his fishing jaunts, the owner uses two trim motor launches which he carries aboard the Haida. Both launches are equipped with radio telephone and are able to maintain contact with the ship.

The Haida carries a crew of 17 and has passenger accommodation for four people. Throughout the passenger quarters beautiful paneling has been installed. The dining-room, situated forward, is paneled in light mahogany and the starboard part of the ship.

Haida's wheelhouse, equipped with the most modern navigational aids obtainable.

Money, Cigarettes, Stolen From Cafe; High School Entered

Thieves who broke into the De Luxe Cafe, Humboldt and Douglas Streets, Saturday night escaped with a considerable quantity of money from pinball machines owned by V. Little and approximately $75 worth of cigarettes, city police reported today.

Detective-Sergeant Henry Jarvis and Detective Alex Briggs reported that each machine was moved into the kitchen and then broken into. The cash boxes in each were handled by towels to prevent fingerprints being left.

Entrance was gained through a transom window on the south side. An attempt was also made to gain entry by a window on the north side.

During Saturday night Victoria High School was also entered and two fountain pens valued at $5 and a carving knife of the same value were stolen. James Taylor, janitor, discovered the entry yesterday. Entry was gained by breaking the glass in the boiler-room door.

"Here's something I want to quote you," said the Old Timer this morning. It says: "When socialists keep on harping about controls as the essence of their policy, they lend plausibility to the charges that they are really frustrated bureaucrats with an itch to manage other people's business for them."

"Who said that? Well, it was a leading figure in the C.C.F. He was scolding his own people, but the point is interesting. Isn't there just a little more than plausibility in those charges?"

"What do you hear in the socialist speeches, or for that matter in the Communist speeches when they are talking to people who aren't Communists? Isn't it always that they are going to take over what others have created and then run those businesses as they say 'for use, not for profit'?"

"What do you think you would get if this country should decide to throw out free enterprise and substitute government ownership and control of everything? You'd certainly get controls by a lot of bureaucrats, and then more controls, and still more. It's an inevitable process. Look at any socialist country in the world and you can see it working."

"Do you think you would find men pushing out, creating new businesses, planning great enterprises? Do you think the lot of the ordinary man or woman would be improved? Well, for me, and I've lived quite a time, I don't."

Ira Becker And Son Exclusive Agents

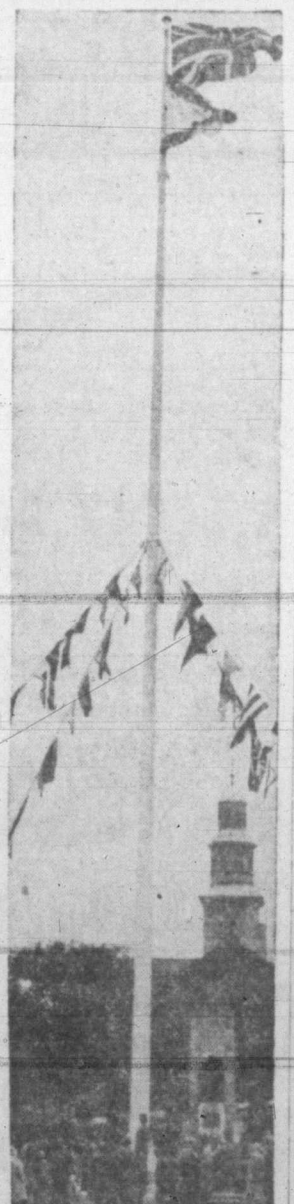

"Sanitary" meat and produce scales, and "Sanitary" meat choppers, for use in grocery and butcher shops, are now sold exclusively on Vancouver Island by Ira Becker and Son, 648-Cornwall Street, Victoria. The scale comes in two models, one for high-counter use, the other for low-counter. Both are designed to measure every weighing transaction down to the last fractional penny. Each scale is equipped with the famous "Sanitary" billboard chart, with 22 group prices.

The meat chopper saves time and flavor of meat, by chopping it clean, not mashing or squeezing. There is plenty of power, no vibration and absolute safety in the operation of the "Sanitary" meat chopper. Scales and choppers are finished in white porcelain and ti-enamel.

Ira Becker and Son are also agents for the well-known R. C. Allen cash registering machines, to fit every type of retail business. With each register sold goes a simplified bookkeeping system which gives the merchant a quick daily balance.

When the daily transactions of a business clear through the R. C. Allen Cash Registering machine,

40-Hour Week Plan For Civil Servants

OTTAWA (CP)—Amid reports the federal government will soon be asked to place all civil servants on a 40-hour week, there are no indications the proposal has reached higher government officials.

Fred Knowles, national secretary of the Amalgamated Civil Servants of Canada, said the 40-hour week would be proposed to the government soon along with proposals for standard provisions for overtime work.

However, State Secretary Gibson said the government had not been asked to consider the matter and R. B. Bryce, chairman of the National Joint Council, liaison body between the government and civil service organizations, said he had not been requested to consider the proposal.

There had been, Mr. Bryce added, a "definite consideration" of a proposal to compensate civil servants for overtime work.

Action In Lacrosse Playoff

Legion Squares Lacrosse Series; Final Tilt Today

Coming up with a far superior brand of play than displayed in Saturday's game when they absorbed a 16 to 15 overtime defeat at the hands of Coquitlam, Arnie Ferguson's Canadian Legion box lacrosse squad ran roughshod over the visiting mainlanders in the second game of the B.C. senior B box lacrosse semifinals at Stevenson Memorial Park Sunday afternoon, winning 15 to 8, to knot the best-of-three series at one game each.

The final game of semifinal of the series is scheduled to be played at the open air box today at 4. Winner of the series will travel to Vernon this week-end for a best-of-three series for the provincial title. Games are scheduled Saturday, Sunday and Monday, if necessary.

In chalk-up of their one-sided victory Sunday, Legionnaires spotted Coquitlam a 3 to 2 lead in the slowly-played first-quarter and then turned on the pressure to tally four consecutive goals and lead 6 to 4 at the half.

BUDDY LOTTEARS

Paced by blond-haired Buddy Lott, who with Darryl Popham and Jim McKeachie, made a special trip over from U.B.C. for the games, the Vets rammed home six goals in the third period while holding the visitors to a pair of tallies. Lott scored three of his team's total in this frame.

Ernie Ball, Popham and Joe Bryant scored the final three Legion goals in the fourth quarter with Coutts counting both markers for Coquitlam.

Duff McCaghey with two goals and three assists topped both teams in point making with Lott, with three goals, and Popham, with two goals and one assist, runner-ups.

Outstanding for Coquitlam was

Jack Regan Captures Top Rifle Honors

Jack Regan, Canadian Scottish, captured the final shoot of the season of the Victoria and District Rifle Association over the week-end, with a perfect score at 200 yards and dropping only one point in each of the 500 and 600-yard ranges.

Regan wound up three points ahead of Albert Ashe, who missed two points in the 200 and three in the 600, counting a perfect score in the 500-yard range. H. Cresine topped the R.C.E. M.C. marksmen with 99 points, one ahead of Capt. W. B. McKay.

In the Fifth Coast Regiment shoot, Sgt. Arthur Sherwin was listed winner, missing three points in each of the 200 and 500-yard ranges and dropping only one point on the 600-yard field for a total of 98 points.

SOCCER PRACTICE

Saanich Thistles Soccer Club will practice at Athletic Park Thursday at 8. All members are requested to turn out.

Don Sharpe, speedy centre man, who scored one goal and assisted on two others.

LOSE IN OVERTIME

In Saturday's contest which went into overtime before a decision was reached, Vets played sloppy lacrosse and at one time trailed the mainlanders by a 9 to 3 count.

A concerted drive in the final two quarters led by Pork Andrews brought Legion on even terms and finally into a one-goal lead about three minutes from time. Rowland of Coquitlam, however, tied the count, forcing overtime. The visitors copied the verdict by outscoring Vets two goals to one in the extra sessions, Rowland scoring the deciding tally.

Andrews with four goals paced the Legion attack while Rowland and Coutts were best of Coquitlam, the former counting five and the latter four goals.

Teams and scorers follow: Coquitlam—Anderson, McDonald, 1. Rowley, Millard, Coutts, 2. Rowland, 1. Sharpe, 1. Osborn, 1. N. McDonald, Dan George, 1. Nelson, Wingrove, Bruce, 1.

Legion—Lott, 2. McKeachie, Andrew, 2. Ball, 1. McKim, 1. J. McKeachie, 2. Bryant, 1. Mason, Popham, 2. Lott, 3. McCaghey, 2. Allen, Mair, 1.

Joe Robbins Performs Hat-Trick For United

Victoria United chalked up their second consecutive victory of the young Pacific Coast Soccer League season at Athletic Park Saturday before 1,000 of the faithful, blanketing the speedy St. Saviours XI of Vancouver 3 to 0. Joe Robbins, United's young centre forward, supplied the scoring highlights as he came up with the first hat-trick of the season.

United had a little more to do in Saturday's match than in the opener a week ago against the Nanaimo squad as St. Saviours pressed the local defence on many occasions, missing golden opportunities, including two penalty kicks.

Following a close call at the Victoria end at the 25-minute mark, United marched down the field, and with Andy Anderson making a beautiful play for Robbins, took the lead when the centre-forward picked the lower left-hand corner of the net from about 20 feet out. Jankovitch, St. Saviours' left-winger, had hit the crossbar on the preceding play.

Remainder of the half saw play seessaw up and down the field with both sides coming close, only erratic shooting preventing further scores.

Nip Saga replaced Lou Hephpenstall at inside right for United as the second half got under way, and for the first 15 minutes the visitors outplayed the locals. Moss was forced to concede a number of corners at this stage of the game but fine defensive work, particularly by Alan Reside and George Forbes, staved off any concerted scoring effort.

HIT CROSSBAR

St. Saviours were awarded their first penalty kick when Rogers was pulled down when in the clear in front of the Victoria net. Jankovitch took the spot kick but was unfortunate as his drive hit the crossbar. United came back to tally their second corner a moment later when Travis boomed a long kick down the centre and Robbins beat goalie Moreton to the ball, deflecting it over the netminder's outstretched hands into the net.

When Letson was sandwiched between the Victoria defence, referee George Barnes awarded the visitors their second spot kick of the afternoon. Rogers skied the ball over the bar.

Final goal of the game came about five minutes from time with Robbins again scoring on a hard drive into the corner of the twine on which Moreton had no chance.

ST. ANDREWS WIN

St. Andrews, Dominion soccer champions, registered their first victory of the 1947-48 season in Vancouver Saturday by edging out the strong North Shore team, 2 to 1.

Ted Enneffer counted the winning goal for the Scots a few minutes from time after a concerted drive on the Reds' goal. Frank Ambler, former Scot, tallied North Shore's lone goal.

JUVENILE BOXLA KINGS

VANCOUVER (CP)—A more experienced squad, Vancouver Burrard Lions, defeated a game Nanaimo Palace Hotel aggregation, 17 to 7, Saturday night to capture the juvenile lacrosse championship of British Columbia. The Burrard Lions won the best-of-three series in two straight games, winning the first tilt Thursday, 16 to 4.

GORGE VALE GOLF

N. Galbraith captured the monthly medal competition at the Gorge Vale Golf Club for October, firing a net 66. Other leaders included J. R. Smith 71, R. Hoadley 72, E. Barber 73, D. Gilbard 73, T. Valentine 74 and R. Law 74.

Basketball Season Opens Wednesday

Play in the Victoria and District Basketball Association will get under way Wednesday at the High School with three games on the evening's card.

In the women's intermediate A section, Eagles and Comets will pry off the lid at 7, while in the intermediate A section of the men's division, Eagles will battle Navy one hour later.

Third game will pit Brentwood Aces against Chinese Students in a senior B tilt at 9.

Adanacs Favored To Wind Up Mann Cup Series Tonight

VANCOUVER (CP)—New Westminster Adanacs ruled as favorites today to cop the Mann Cup, emblematic of the Canadian Senior Lacrosse championship, by virtue of a sparkling game Saturday in which they defeated Mimico Mountaineers 13 to 9 to take a two-game lead in the best-of-five series.

The Adanacs won the opening game 17 to 14, and in the second went down the Mountaineers, who held the edge in weight, with fast, tricky play. New Westminster's superiority was apparent throughout. The Adanacs forged ahead in every quarter, and outscored Mimico in all but the second, when both teams tallied a pair of goals.

Adanacs led 4 to 2 at the end of the first quarter, held it at 6 to 4 in the second, raised it to 9 to 6 in third and scored four goals to Mimico's three in the last.

For Mimico, top scorers were Tom Love, with one goal and three assists; Gunner Williams, with three goals, and Johnny Hewitt, with two.

For Adanacs defenceman, Bob Lee scored four, Archie Brownling three and Norm Baker two, Baker surmounting rib injuries to make the scoring column.

Goalie Garnie Carter, a one-time forward who replaced the injured Gordie Pogue, handled 19 shots without mishap for Adanacs. Ray Mortimore of Mimico stopped only 15. Both were fired upon 28 times.

The teams renew the 73rd lacrosse classic in New Westminster tonight.

Mrs. R. Bramley won the October A class medal competition at the Uplands Golf Club Saturday with a score of 93-18-75. B class honors were captured by Mrs. R. Peacock with a score of 95-22-73.

Last-Minute Drive Gives Mustangs Decision Over Navy

Victoria Mustangs, still smarting from a pair of drubbings suffered at the hands of two Yankee squads, came back Saturday to chalk up their first victory of the season, defeating the Navy squad, 6 to 0.

With the H.M.C.S. Naden band participating before the game and at the half, play was officially opened by Rear-Admiral Rollo Mainguy, commanding officer of the Pacific Coast.

Naden lads controlled play in the first half, with Langston and Cocks spearheading the attack. Former captain of the Mustangs, Johnny Bing, started Navy off again in the third quarter, recovering a Mustang fumble. Bert Nelson gave winners plenty of trouble with some hard off-tackle plunges, putting Navy lads deep into Mustang territory, but the sailors were never able to score.

Final minutes of the third session yielded some fine open field running by Mustangs' Ray Mitchell and some smart passing by Toad Garnet. Mustangs finally hit pay dirt in the last quarter when they combined a short passing attack with some line plunges to penetrate deep into Navy territory.

With Alexander going through centre for 35 yards, setting up what proved to be the break in the contest, Bill O'Connell then caught a long toss from Garnet to go over bluejackets' line. The conversion failed, leaving the final score Mustangs 6, Navy 0. Final whistle saw losers leading a strong attack into Mustang's zone.

St. Catharines Win

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP)—Canadian junior lacrosse laurels rested in St. Catharines for the first time today after a smaller and lighter athletic team downed British Columbia all-stars 10 to 6 Saturday to take the best-of-five series for the Lord Minto Cup three games to one.

The visitors, an all-star British Columbia team operating under Vancouver Burrard colors, scored their only win Friday night when they rebounded from a two-game setback to overpower the home club, 12 to 10.

World Series Highlights

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the hottest tips to come out of the World Series is that Hank Greenberg will be signed by Brooklyn Dodgers for first-base duty with Jackie Robinson moving back to his old post at second. What happens to Ed Stanky? Well, the informant declared that the scrappy second baseman will be offered a managerial post in a Triple "A" League.

"I guess I just don't live right," wailed Joe Dimaggio in the dressing room after little Al Gionfriddo had come up with the "catch of the series" when he robbed Joe of a possible home run with two men on bases with a sensational glove-hand catch directly in front of the visiting team's bull pen, 415 feet from the plate. That catch saved the game for the Dodgers.

Brooklyn officials were kidding saying last night that if the Dodgers win the World Series they ought to vote National League umpire Larry Goetz a cut of their share. They claim that were it not for Goetz' quick action in forcibly restraining Ed Stanky from charging American League umpire Ed Rommel over a dispute whether Larry Berra's hit was fair or foul, the scrappy little Dodger second baseman would almost surely have been ejected from the game. It was Stanky who set up the Dodgers' last two scores with a timely sixth-inning single.

Incidentally, only the commissioner has the authority to throw a player out of a World Series game. The umpire merely reports to the commissioner what has happened.

A Yankee official confided last night that had the Yankees tied the score in the last half of the ninth inning, Commissioner Chandler would have ordered the lights to be put on to enable the teams to finish the game. That is against the rules during the regular season. However, the Dodgers and Yankees had agreed to such a move and got the consent of Chandler.

Yesterday's hero, of course, was bench-warmer Al Gionfriddo who was sent in to play left field in one of those strategic moves the managers were making all day... when Joe Dimaggio drove what was perhaps his hardest wallop of the series out to the bullpen gate, Al raced out, twisting as he ran to watch the ball, stumbled a bit and finally stabbed with his glove to rob Joe of a three-run homer.

Before the game Yankee manager Bucky Harris refused to compare Joe Hatten with celebrated old-time speedball pitchers. "He's plenty fast," said Bucky, "but when he gets in trouble he just keeps trying to throw them past the batters." Harris, who may become the most second-guessed manager on record, has one answer for the day-late critics: "Sometimes it is too bad you don't have two guesses, when the first one goes wrong."

Bums Outslug Yanks In Sixth Series Game

YANKEE STADIUM, New York—(AP)—A battling band of Brooklyn Dodgers thrilled a record World Series throng of 74,065 Sunday by outslugging New York Yankees 8 to 6 to deadlock the playoff at three victories apiece and send it right down to the final struggle today.

The scrappers from across the bridge came from behind to score four runs in a sixth-inning outburst and then put on a brilliant fielding exhibition in the late innings to protect their advantage.

At the end it was so dark it was impossible to follow a fly ball from the stands, and for the fourth straight day Hugh Casey, doughty Brooklyn veteran, was out there standing off the hated Yankees. The contest required three hours and 19 minutes, longest nine-inning game in World Series annals.

After yesterday's 8 to 6 win Casey had to share the pedestal with little Al Gionfriddo. He's the fellow the Pirates "tossed in" when Kirby Higbe and four other athletes were sold to Pittsburgh for about $200,000. At the time they laughed and said he had been sent along to carry the money bags back to Rickey.

Stealing a base and scoring a run in Friday's victory over the Yanks should have been enough for little "GI".

Shotton, manipulating pinch hitters wildly, found himself with second baseman Eddie Miksis playing left field in the middle of yesterday's sixth battle. At the start of the sixth he sent Gionfriddo out there for defensive purposes and he never made a better move.

BEST CATCH EVER

With two men on and the Brooks leading 8 to 5, Joe DiMaggio hit one of the longest drives he ever hit in the Yankee Stadium. It soared high and far toward the Brooklyn bull pen 415 feet away, in deep left field. Gionfriddo made a one-handed running catch that has been accepted by many wise baseball men as the best they ever saw.

That turned out to be the ball game, for Casey soon was summoned from the shadowy bull pen to quiet the Yanks in a last-inning rally. Two were on and nobody out against lefty Joe Hatten, who held the fort after Vic Lombardi and Ralph Branca, the ultimate winner, failed.

Casey yielded one score but retired the three men necessary to protect the vital winning edge.

RECORD CROWD

That's all in the record books now, along with the crowd of 74,065, the largest ever to see a series game. But the big story is still to be told.

Allie Reynolds, who tamed the Brooks, 10 to 3, in the second game, had nothing in the sixth contest. After smashing across two runs in the first, with the help of a fly ball single by Jackie Robinson that Lindell lost in the sun, they flattened the "Injun" rightlander with successive record-breaking doubles by Pee Wee Reese, Jackie Robinson and Dixie Walker in the third.

Four Yankee scores in the third routed Lombardi and another disputed tally made it 5 to 4 in New York's favor in the fourth.

Joe Page, who came to the scene when Karl Drev's needed help in the fifth, failed the Yanks in the sixth when Brooklyn turned the tide. Bruce Edwards' single, a double by Carl Furillo and a long fly by pinch hitter Lavagetto tied the score. Bobby Bragan's pinch-double sent the Dodgers out front.

After Eddie Stanky rapped the fourth hit off Page's delivery, Bobo Newsom came in to present Reese with a two-run single that sewed up the ball game.

Heaneys, Esquimalt Score Wins In Juvenile Soccer

Two division one juvenile soccer tilts yesterday saw Heaneys score a convincing 4 to 1 decision over Esquimalt Meat Market and Eagles whitewash the Marigold-Colquhoun entry, 5 to 0.

In Saturday's games, Jubilee Pharmacy edged Veterans of France, 2 to 1, in a well-played contest. Losers counted the only goal of the first half when Bennett booted a hard one into the hem. Bill Patey's long shot deadlocked the issue early in the second half and Ross counted on a penalty boot 10 minutes from time to decide the contest.

Another division two contest saw Esquimalt Terriers nudge Quarter Cab, 1 to 0.

In the third division, Pacific Meat defeated Elks 3 to 0 with LeBus tallying twice and Wetherall counting the other marker.

In a pair of fourth division contests, Esquimalt Transfer scored a 2 to 0 win over Fairbridge Farm School and Tillicum Athletic Club eked out a 1 to 0 decision over St. Louis College. Only fifth division match saw Balmoral Thistles and Y.M.C.A. play to a scoreless draw.

SOCCER MEETING
Annual meeting of the Victoria West Football Club will take place at the home of Jack Price, 1146 Esquimalt Road, Tuesday at 8. Players, officials and other interested parties are asked to attend.

Bechtel-Bailey-Monteith-Horton Local Gun Club's 1947 'Big Four'

The "Big Four" of the Victoria Gun Club in 1947 competition was Ted Bailey, Dr. A. D. Bechtel, Roger Monteith and Russ Horton.

Yesterday at the Albert Road shooting grounds of the local scatter gun club, the first three came through to gather in the silverware that has been competed for since the beginning of the year, while vice-president Horton gets the laurels for the best average score on the trap ranges for the year.

This mid-hunting season program was shooting off to decide trap and skeet trophy winners.

In these final contests, Bailey breasted forward to the spotlight with the day's best score. He cracked a possible 25 straight in the five-man fight for possession of the Colomist Cup on the trap ranges. Jack Roach was the closest to him, a 22-25, while others who won legs on this shoot during the year, president John Wenger, Henry Pottinger and William Dalziel, each posted 21's.

Dr. Bechtel proved that he still has a keen eye for knocking off the skeet targets, when he breezed through with a three bird decision over Ted Bailey in the C.I.L. Shield final.

Final score in this event read Bechtel 24—only a single miss—and Bailey 21.

There were four at the posts seeking to capture the H. A. Humber Handicap Trophy on the trap ranges and it was Monteith who was victorious in an extra event following the first 25-bird competition.

When the quartette had finished the opening event, Monteith and Jack Roach were even-stein with 23's to necessitate still another shootout. While Monteith only muffed the 18th in this shoot, Roach fell down in failing the crack the fourth and 21st.

Horton topped the parade in the shooting on the trap ranges this year, according to trap field captain Clarke Atchison's 1947 record. His average was 88 per cent, and president Wenger was right on his heels with an 87 per cent, Bailey third with an 86 per cent. Roach and Atchison finished with 85 per cent, Monteith and Pottinger each scored 84 per cent. Tommy Zaccarelli and Bill Russell both registered 83 per cent and Moon was the other shooter in the eighties, with 81 per cent.

With the hunting season in full swing, it is probable that the first shoot of the club will be quite a distance off. It is an all-year-round shooting club, however, and it is likely that special competitions will be staged before Christmas.

Hockey Training Notes

Exhibition games were the order of the week-end as National Hockey League clubs rounded out their training programs for the long schedule ahead, which opens next week two days after the Thanksgiving night game in Toronto between the Maple Leafs and the All-Stars. The opponents were mostly drawn from so-called "farm" circuits and some of the big teams didn't fare any the best of it.

At St. Catharines, the defending Stanley Cup champions, Toronto Maple Leafs were edged 3 to 2 by their American League farm team, Pittsburgh Hornets. Bud Poile, on loan for the game from the Leafs, set up the first Pittsburgh goal, garnered by Harry Taylor. Fleming Mackell and Jackie Hamilton scored the Hornets remaining efforts. Leaf tallies were scored by Gaye Stewart and Bill Barliko.

The second N.H.L. team to end up on the wrong side of the score sheet, was Chicago Black Hawks who lost a 3 to 2 decision to Kansas City Pla-Mors of the United States Hockey League.

All N.H.L. teams weren't humiliated by their minor league affiliations. Boston Bruins, Montreal Canadiens, Detroit Red Wings and New York Rangers saved the day for the "big timers."

At Hershey, Pa., Boston Bruins trimmed the defending champions of the American Hockey League, Hershey Bears, 3 to 1. Ed Sanford, Johnny Pierson and Joe Carveth bulged the twine once each for the Bruins while Gordie Bruce accounted for the Bears lone tally. With rookie left-winger Pete Morin bagging three goals, New York Rangers downed their minor league affiliates, New Haven Ramblers, 6 to 3 at Lake Placid.

The Canadiens turned in a double triumph over Buffalo Bisons, defeating the American League club 4 to 1 in Buffalo Sunday night after a 4 to 0 victory in Montreal Saturday. Toe Blake and Murph Chamberlain each scored twice in the series while other snipers were Bobby Carse, Butch Bouchard, Toe Blake, Johnny Quilty and Jacques Locas, a rookie up from Montreal Royals. Leo Gravelle got Buffalo's goal.

Each Red Wings' line netted two goals as Detroit downed Indianapolis Capitals, their American League farm club, 9 to 4, at Detroit Olympia. Eddie Bruneteau and Ted Lindsay led the Red Wings with a brace of counters each.

Angels, Oakland Gain P.C.L. Finals

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles Angels Sunday edged Portland Beavers, 5 to 4, to sew up a four-games-to-one series victory in the Coast League's Governor's Cup playoffs. Angels will meet Oakland in the final playoffs starting here Tuesday.

Los Angeles 5, 12 0
Portland 4, 9 0
Batteries: Chambers, Dobner (6) and Gillespie; Salverson, Dibasi (4), Sierra (3) Mooty (9) and Silvera.

OAKLAND (AP) — Oakland Aorns shut out San Francisco Seals, 4 to 0, Sunday on the five-hit pitching of Will Hafey to win their first leg of the Pacific Coast League's Governor's Cup playoff from Seals' four games to one.

R. H. E.
San Francisco 0 5 0
Oakland 4 11 0
Batteries: Lien, Budnick (6) Gladd; W. Hafey and Raimondi.

NANAIMO DEFEATED
NANAIMO (CP) — St. Saviours of Vancouver defeated Nanaimo United, 5 to 2, in a Pacific Coast Soccer League game here yesterday. Winners led 1 to 0 at the half.

Gunn and Whittaker were the centre of one of the hottest controversies ever to get into a C.L.A. meeting. After the final game of the 1945 series here, when Vancouver Burrards defeated St. Catharines Athletics, Whittaker invaded the referees' dressing-room where he allegedly told Gunn what he thought of him and a fight resulted.

At a special C.L.A. meeting next day both Whittaker and Gunn were barred from participating in the 1946 C.L.A. play-offs. They were also asked to apologize for their roles—but although Whittaker reportedly did last year, Gunn has never expressed regret for the offence.

Play To Draw In Intermediate Soccer

Starting right in where they left off last year, Oak Bay and Saanich Thistles of the intermediate soccer loop engaged in a 3 to 3 draw in the opening game of the season at Windsor Park Saturday.

Saanichites took a three-goal lead in the first half of the clean, fast contest when Hec Renton scored a neat solo and set up "Toad" Atkins for the second marker. Atkins tallied the third on a close-in shot, beating Sheriff cleanly.

Bays had advantage of the wind in the second session when Alex Davyduk snapped up Denny Wells' corner to put Oak Bay on the score sheet. Glen Smith narrowed the margin with a tough shot and Frank Grealy hammered home Smith's cross to deadlock the contest. Both squads missed some good chances in the dying minutes when they failed to score on a number of penalty kicks.

At Heywood Park, Navy white-washed Victoria College, 4 to 0, after the squads had played a scoreless first half. Blieth, Woolley, Morton and Waldron tallied the Navy counters, all coming in the last 20 minutes of play.

Third game of the card saw Brentwood Aces and Saanich Indians engage in a 1-all sawoff at Beacon Hill. First goal came at the 30-minute mark of the second half when Jim Turner put the Brentwood eleven one up. Indians deadlocked the score on a penalty kick late in the contest.

Question To Be Decided This Week

WINNIPEG (CP) — The question of Canada's participation in Olympic Hockey will be definitely decided within the next week, Al Pickard of Regina, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said in an interview here last night.

Canada should definitely send a team to "uphold our reputation as the greatest hockey country," he said. "But only if our representatives can be genuinely considered worthy maple leaf stand-bearers."

"If we send a team each member will have to be able to take the Olympic oath of never having received any monetary grant for sports participation."

"If a strong enough simon pure squad cannot be found, then we should withdraw from Olympic hockey competition."

Top Duncan Bowman

Maquinna Archers defeated Cowichan Bowmen of Duncan yesterday at Athletic Park in a well-played archery tournament. Earlier in the year, the up-island squad turned back the local team in a tournament at Duncan.

Local men's group defeated the Duncan squad by 187 points while in the women's section, the local archers gained a comfortable 438-point margin.

A Vancouver Island record was set by Alan McInnes of the Cowichan team when he recorded 457 points. High individual scorer among the women was Betty Shade of the winning squad. Posting a score of 312, she captured the J. G. Saul trophy presented to the highest score in women's competition.

In the 150-yard clout shoot, Frank Ferries of the visiting team led with 169 points, which was listed as a record. Miss Shade again topped the women's section, posting a score of 158 in the 120-yard clout shoot.

Using a 45-pound bow, Jack Miller of the local club captured the flight shoot, potting the remarkable distance of 296 yards. Miller won the Shade trophy back from the up-island club, posted for the longest shot for bows under 50 pounds.

C.N.R. To Remodel Building Soon For Victoria Offices

The Haileybury Building, corner of Government and Fort Streets, will be remodeled at a cost of $50,000 to house all present C.N.R. offices, R. C. Vaughan, C.M.G., chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways, said in an interview here today.

He anticipated work on the building, owned by the C.N.R., would begin in the immediate future. When remodeling is complete the telegraph, express, freight and ticket offices will be moved in.

Mr. Vaughan said the C.N.R. was contemplating little else for Victoria at the present time. The situation here has been studied by C.N.R. officials but present conditions precluded any further work. The company, he pointed out, already had $50,000,000 of equipment on order, some for more than two and a half years, but conditions made it very difficult to get materials.

However, he did expect some improvements to be made at Ogden Point where a Dominion-appointed expert recently made a survey. The C.N.R. had not yet received a report on that survey, Mr. Vaughan said.

Asked if he expected the company would soon build another ship, following the Prince George, the C.N.R. president said such a move was not now being contemplated, but if it was decided to add another ship, it seemed logical to duplicate the same ship in the same yard.

Youth Freed By Court Of Appeal; Sentence Reduced

The Appeal Court today quashed the conviction against Alex Ramsey of Vancouver, previously found guilty of stealing a bolt of cloth.

In handing down the court's decision, Mr. Justice C. H. O'Halloran, said there were grounds for suspicion against the youth, but this did not exclude innocence.

The appellant was found guilty by a Vancouver court of stealing a bolt of cloth with three other companions. He had pleaded there was no evidence to show that he had stolen it or was aware that the cloth had been stolen by his friends.

The case of 17-year-old Frank Cross, who appealed against a two-year penitentiary term imposed by Magistrate A. I. Thomas on the grounds that "it was too severe," was allowed by the court. Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson dissented. The sentence was reduced to one year.

In granting the appeal both Mr. Justice Smith and Mr. Justice O'Halloran expressed the opinion that they thought the sentence was too severe for a first offender, despite the fact that he had a bad juvenile record.

Mr. Justice Robertson, supported the magistrate's decision on the grounds that he felt that he youth needed discipline and training.

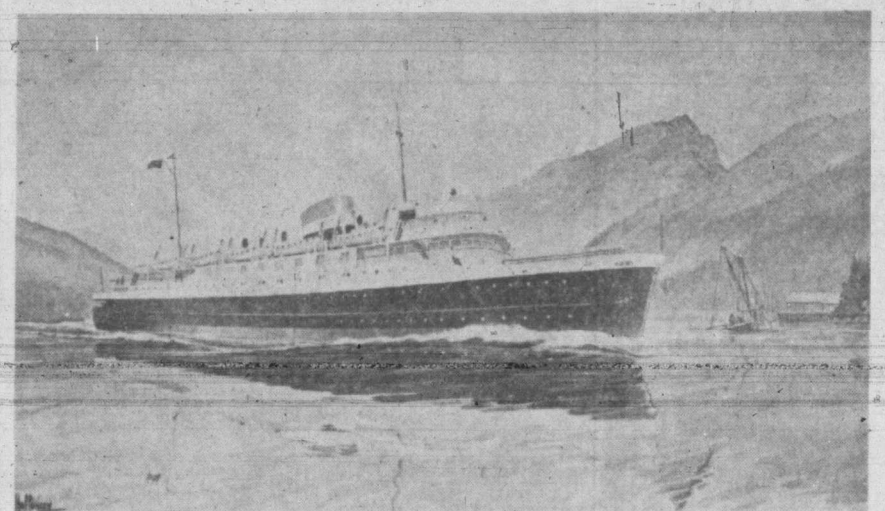

"I agree with the magistrate," he said. "Probation officers have been unable to do anything with the boy."

THREE-ROOM FURNISHED HOUSE—Suitable for two people. 46 Milstream Road, Langford. 3-84

New C.N. Ship Modern, Luxurious

Sketch by Cmdr. H. W. St. Soulsby, 1814 Monteith Street, of the Canadian National's 5,700-ton S.S. Prince George, first large passenger steamship to be built in Canada in 25 years, launched at Yarrows Ltd. today. No ship now sailing in the northern coastal service of B.C. is bigger, faster or more modern, say the owners of the vessel.

Special arrangements have been made for luxury tourist accommodation aboard the new Canadian National ship Prince George, built at Yarrows Ltd.

Capable of carrying 322 passengers—294 first-class and 28 second-class—the passenger accommodation is spacious and has indirect fluorescent lighting. One of the main attractions of the cabin arrangement is that all cabins are equipped with berths which disappear into the wall, turning the cabins into sitting rooms in the daytime.

There are eight public rooms, consisting of observation, smoking room and ballroom on the promenade deck; entrance rotunda on the upper deck around which are the purser's office, beauty parlor, barber shop and newsstand, and, at the after end of this deck is a sitting room, situated for the convenience of promenade passengers. On the main deck is a children's playroom. The dining saloon is on the lower deck with a clubroom on the orlop deck.

There are seven decks in all, tank top, orlop, lower, main, upper, promenade, boat and navigation decks.

The 14 deluxe staterooms on the promenade deck are paneled in hardwood and each has a private bathroom. There are two two-suite rooms in addition to the deluxe rooms. They are also finished in hardwood and fitted with private bathrooms. The deluxe-rooms have large windows and lounges and chairs.

There are 12 de luxe staterooms on the upper deck outfitted with showers. On this main deck are 18 special staterooms fitted with settees and folding berths, and four bachelor rooms, each with a shower.

On this deck are also 16 standard staterooms which are arranged for two or three berths. On the after end of this deck is the large sitting-room paneled in walnut.

On the main deck forward are 14 second-class two-berth cabins, and amidships 36 special staterooms, each with its own shower, and 20 more standard staterooms aft.

The Prince George is primarily intended for passenger trade between Vancouver, Prince Rupert and Alaska. She differs in appearance from previous Canadian National ships, having only one large funnel instead of three and is streamlined and very modern in outline.

She has an overall length of 350 feet; beam molded, 52 feet; maximum draft, 17 feet 6 inches, and a speed of 18 knots. Her gross tonnage will be approximately 5,700 tons when final outfitting is completed by Yarrows, and she will carry 400 tons of general cargo.

The ship's engines are four Yarrow naval-type water tube boilers, burning fuel oil and arranged with superheaters to provide the necessary steam for the propelling machinery, which consists of twin Skinner-type uniflow engines, each engine having six cylinders, making a total of 7,000 i.h.p. She is equipped with the most modern navigational aids, consisting of gyro compass, echo sounder, wireless and radar.

B.C. Police To Have Radio System

It was learned today from Victoria and district headquarters of the B.C. Provincial Police that as soon as equipment that has been on order for a considerable time is delivered the first step will be taken to place in operation a provincial-wide B.C. police radio system.

One official reported that at a recent international convention on wavelengths the B.C. police was awarded its wavelength.

"As soon as the equipment arrives we will start it into operation here," he said, with Burnaby next, North Vancouver and other places throughout the province to be gradually incorporated into the co-ordinated setup.

While the B.C. police here had some equipment for a period it was only borrowed stuff, which was called back about last March. The value of radio in connection with police work has been widely acclaimed here and elsewhere.

Inquests Into 5 Deaths This Week

Three inquests will be held this week to inquire into the five deaths that resulted from traffic accidents in Greater Victoria during the week-end. Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, will preside at all.

Inquest on Luther Holling will be held tomorrow morning at 9:30 at McCall Bros' Funeral Home.

Wednesday morning at 10 at Sand's Funeral Parlor an inquiry will be held into the death of Alexander E. A. Brash. Inquest on Charles Andrew Knight, Lena Mary Leitz and William Allen Sturmer will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 at McCall Bros' Funeral Home.

Letter carriers will make the morning delivery of mail only on Thanksgiving Day, Oct. 13, Post Office officials have announced. No deliveries will be made in rural areas. The public lobby of the Post Office building will be open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m., but the wicket will be open from 8 a.m. till noon only. Collection and dispatch of mails will be as usual.

Waterworks Policy Will Be Decided At Special Meeting

The question of future policy for the city waterworks department will come up for discussion at a special meeting of the City Council called for Tuesday afternoon by Mayor Percy George.

The council will also open tenders for the roof covering and drainage of the Memorial Arena. These tenders were to have been opened Friday, but the time for getting bids in was extended until this afternoon.

It is understood that Ald. F. N. Cabell, chairman of the water board, will present an outline of future policy and plans for the waterworks, arrived at after a number of discussions with Dr. A. E. Cleveland, special commissioner investigating water supply for South Vancouver Island.

The question of a metropolitan water board is looming as a strong possibility for the future administration of the water distribution system for the whole area, and the City Council is already seeking information as to whether money for waterworks expansion could be more easily obtained under the auspices of such a board than it could on the city credit alone.

It has been estimated that $1,500,000 will need to be spent almost immediately on waterworks to bring the distribution system up to efficiency, and a $4,000,000 expenditure in the fairly near future for the often-discussed Sooke tunnel is a distinct possibility.

Chevrier To Address Laurier Club Tuesday

Federal Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier will address the Laurier Club at a luncheon at noon Tuesday in the Douglas Hotel dining-room, it was announced today.

Holder of B.A. and Ph.D. degrees and an honorary LL.D. degree, Mr. Chevrier, who was called to the Ontario bar in 1928 and appointed a King's Counsel in 1938 has represented the Stormont, Ont., riding in the House of Commons since 1935. A former chief government whip, he has attended several important conferences, including the Bretton Woods conference in 1945.

He was appointed transport minister in April, 1945.

Gaining admission into the Vogue Furniture Store, 860 Yates Street, by breaking the catch of a rear window, thieves stole a sum of $12 from the cash register, police reported today. Detectives T. Callan and G. Munro are investigating.

3 Or 4 Men To Supervise B.C. Electric Strike Vote

The provincial labor department will name three or four men to supervise a strike vote to be taken Wednesday among more than 2,500 employees of the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd.—the second and largest strike vote to be ever conducted under the province's new labor code.

James Thomson, deputy minister of labor, said that the supervisors, requested during the week-end by the Street Railwaymen's Union (A.F.L.), would probably be named later today. The number of men appointed to supervise the vote will depend on qualified men available in the department, said Mr. Thomson.

If the street railwaymen do endorse strike action urban transportation will be tied up in Victoria and district along all lines served by the B.C. Electric, and in Vancouver and New Westminster.

Decision to proceed with a government-supervised strike vote, required under the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act which became law last May 15, was reached by the union at membership meetings here Friday night and were announced by W. Turner, recording secretary, Saturday afternoon.

Only one other government-supervised strike vote has previously been conducted in B.C. since the I.C.A. Act became law. It was among 100 employees of the B.C. Power Commission at up-island centres from Duncan to Port Alberni. These employees, represented by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (A.F.L.), endorsed strike action but later settled their differences with the government commission.

Involved in the dispute in Victoria are 244 employees.

Today officers of the union here are in Vancouver for conferences. Last strike of transport workers in Victoria and at the mainland cities was early in 1945. The strike, if it is precipitated, will cause widespread inconvenience to the public, and make difficult the maintenance of staffs at industrial plants and offices in the city.

Differences between the union and the company have been under negotiation for some months.

Unpublished Songs Of Gershwin Heard

Eleven previously unpublished songs by the late George Gershwin will be heard for the first time when "The Shocking Miss Pilgrim," Twentieth Century-Fox's new Technicolor musical starring Betty Grable and Dick Haymes, opens today at the Atlas Theatre. The songs were discovered by George's brother, Ira, who wrote lyrics to them for the gay and romantic musical.

Among the songs heard in the film are: "For You, For Me, For Evermore," "Aren't You Kind of Glad We Did?", "Changing My Tune," "But Not in Boston" and "Waltzing Is Better Sitting Down."

$100,000,000 For C.N.R. Development This Year, Vaughan Tells City Officials

The Canadian National Railways are spending close to $100,000,000 for materials and supplies in Canada during the current year, R. C. Vaughan, Canadian National president, told guests at the luncheon given in his honor by the City Council at the Empress Hotel today.

PRESIDENT R. C. VAUGHAN

Federal Minister of Transport Lionel Chevrier, N. B. Walton, executive vice-president of the C.N.R., and other railway officials were among the guests of honor.

They are in Victoria for the launching of Ss. Prince George this afternoon.

Mr. Vaughan spoke with pride of the new ship, and the part that would be played by her in contributing to the development of B.C. and the progress of Canada.

The greatest pride, he said, was because she is Canadian designed and Canadian built. "We could have placed the order for this vessel elsewhere than in Canada," he stated. "We had that choice. But the record of Canadian shipyards in the war convinced us that just as good ships can be built in Canada as anywhere in the world. This new steamship is proof of our conviction. It is an attestation of our faith in the quality of Canadian materials and in the skill of Canadian dockyard workers."

Contract price for the vessel was $3,098,000 he told the luncheon guests, and all B.C. will profit from it. He also said that if materials and labor were available the company would have spent more this year on new rolling stock.

There have been orders placed for rolling stock, locomotives, freight and passenger car equipment amounting to $40,000,000, which is not sufficient for the company's needs. To aid the situation the company has been working on an extensive program of rehabilitation and remodeling of car equipment and locomotives. On this program $23,000,000 is being spent," Mr. Vaughan said.

He stressed that "it is upon the bedrock of the railway industry that the future of Canada must be laid," and the C.N.R. will play an important role in that future. "As to how they will play it," he concluded, "the launching of this fine, modern steamship here today is an omen and a pledge."

'Song Of Thin Man' On Capitol Screen

"You're Not So Easy to Forget," romantic new ballad by Herb Madigson and Ben Oakland, isn't going to be easy to forget. Used 13 times as a story point in the new William Powell-Myrna Loy "Thin Man" mystery, "Song of the Thin Man," now showing at the Capitol Theatre, and sung in the picture by Gloria Grahame, the song has been recorded by every major record company with prediction that it will be the top hit of 1947.

Indians Go Back To Nature In Movie

Romantic-minded filmgoers may be disappointed when they see Oregon Indians in "Canyon Passage" at the Rio Theatre. No feathers or furbelows, just a breechcloth and a rag around the head, but that's the way they really were in the period of the Ernest Haycox Saturday Evening Post story from which the screen play was adapted.

"Canyon Passage," produced in Technicolor by Walter Wanger and released by Universal, co-stars Dana Andrews, Brian Donlevy and Susan Hayward.

Dick Powell Tries Varied Roles In New Movies

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Wartime film stars who feel their careers slipping—and there are several lately—can take a lesson from Dick Powell. The ex-crooner has few equals at managing his movie fortunes.

Dick bounced back into the limelight with a tough detective portrayal, then played a couple of adventure stories and is now doing a western, "Station West." His next film for RKO lines up as "Mr. Whiskers," a comedy. Then, under his own banner, Dick plans "Mr. Miracle," a musical. "My voice is as good as it ever was," he declares.

COMMAND PERFORMANCE

Bob Hope told me he was taking his radio show overseas this season, and now I've heard the reason. Bob will be on the command performance show before the Royal Family. He'll do two of his broadcasts from London.

Paulette Goddard is back, and Paramount has her for "Hazard." She is the envy of the local gals with her Paris gowns, which "all have splits in the front, back or side." She also displayed her new fashion-fancy ribboned garters. But who'll see them with the long skirts?

Jane Powell can't finish her

'Colonel Blimp' Color Production

One of the most timely and, at the same time, most entertaining films to be released this season is "Colonel Blimp," a handsomely mounted technicolor production from the G.C.F. British studios.

Written, produced and directed by Michael Powell and Emeric Pressburger the picture opens today at the York Theatre.

The film, which stars Anton Walbrook, Deborah Kerr and Roger Livesey, opens to reveal the Victorian England of the Boer War. Two young British officers are singing an operatic aria in a Turkish bath, much to the annoyance of an elderly "Colonel Blimp" of that day who nevertheless swallows his rage when he finds that one of the singers was decorated with the Victoria Cross.

Indonesian Republic Wanted To Grab Power, Be Boss

The United States of Indonesia is to consist of three states, each shown here in a different background. British colonies are not included in U.S.I. Several small islands off Sumatra and Malaya can decide later with which state, if any, they wish to affiliate. Federation will have an area of 735,000 square miles—about one-fifth that of Canada—and a population of 70,000,000—about five times that of Canada. Only Sumatra and Java (and the little island of Madura, not shown) are involved in the current fighting.

By S. BURTON HEATH

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y.—Down in the Indian Ocean, little more than a V-2's flight north of Australia, a new democratic nation is being born. It will be the United States of Indonesia, and in a broad way it is patterned after the United States of America.

It is easy for the bitter fighting in Java and Sumatra to give a false impression of the controversy that rages among the Netherlands, the Republic of Indonesia and the remainder of Indonesia. The Indonesians are not fighting for independence. The Dutch have agreed in writing that Indonesia shall be completely independent after Jan. 1, 1949. The broad basis of a United States of Indonesia—as free as the United States of America—has been accepted by all parties.

Why, then, are Dutch and Indonesians shooting each other in Java and Sumatra? Why are Indonesian officials—who say frankly that they "don't give a damn what the Dutch want, and please quote us on that"—here to argue with the U.N. against Republic of Indonesia claims? The Security Council has refused to listen to Sultan Sjarif Hamid Alkadrie of Pontianak, head of the territory of West Borneo, or to President Sjoekorde Gde Roke Soekawati, or Premier Nadjamudin Daeng Malewa or Home Minister Ide Anak Agoeng Gde Agoeng of the state of East Indonesia.

What they wanted to tell the Council was what they told me over beer and iced coffee, in a hotel room on New York's Park Avenue while here at Lake Success the Council was tossing the Indonesian problem impotently around.

"The Republic insists upon being boss over all Indonesia," the Sultan summarized their argument. "The rest of us want equality among all states of the federation. We didn't want the Dutch to run us as a colony, and we are just as unwilling to have the Republic boss us like subordinates."

All of the Indonesian representatives speak English, but the 34-year sultan, though he never has studied or lived in an English-speaking country, talks it like an American. For that reason as well as because of his rank, he carried the burden of the conversation though East Indonesia is both larger and more populous than West Borneo.

"It is," said the sultan, "as though New York, because it is larger, insisted on bossing the other states in your federation."

East Indonesia, with a population of some 16 millions, includes Bali, Timor, Celebes, the Moluccas, and other islands. Without bloodshed or unpleasant words, East Indonesia attained autonomy last December and established a government with a Council, a president and a cabinet. The first elected legislature met in April.

West Borneo is only one of four divisions of that island. It became self-governing in June, with an elected council. East Borneo now is organizing its own free government. Central Borneo is to follow in a few weeks. When the sultan gets back, these three will combine to form the free states of Borneo.

But—and this is a key to the whole Indonesian problem as these spokesmen see it—neither East Indonesia nor Borneo claim to be independent nations. They think of themselves as two of the free states which, together with the Javanese-Sumatran "republic," will make up the national federation of Indonesia. Each area has the privilege of joining one of these three or forming its own government.

The Republic, on the other hand, considers itself a nation,

Sultan Sjarif Hamid Alkadrie of West Borneo: He wants both Dutch and the Republic to keep hands off.

and wants to be recognized as such, and when the U.S. of Indonesia is formed wants to dominate the federation.

"Most of the Javanese and Sumatrans would prefer to take their freedom peacefully as we did, under the agreement made by their government with the Dutch last October at Linggadjati," said the sultan.

"I have no doubt that the Japanese started the trouble. When the war ended many of them deserted the occupation army and joined up with the Republicans. More than 500 of them have been killed by the Dutch. They had set up a Republic of Indonesia, and they would like to have it control the whole area, in hope that they in turn can control it.

"But the Dutch are to blame, too. They took it for granted that we would follow them like puppets, and discovered too late that we wouldn't."

None of the Indonesians would discuss for quotation Communist activity in the Republican fight against the Dutch. It is a matter of record, however, that two powerful behind-the-scenes Republican leaders, Alimin and Tan Malaka, are Moscow-trained Reds. The latter, expelled by the Dutch when he was Comintern representative for the Far East, returned to Java during the Japanese occupation.

The Indonesians are very bitter because the Security Council will not hear them.

"There is only one good name for what went on there," said the sultan. "It was a Putsch and a show. You can't call it justice."

"We wanted to let them know that the Republic does not represent all Indonesia. Maybe we are wrong in our contention that all states should be equal. But they let India and the Philippines sit at the table? Why won't they even hear us?"

Joan Crawford Stars In New Royal Film

Joan Crawford and Van Heflin share stellar billing in Warner Bros.' new film drama, "Possessed," opening today at the Royal Theatre. An excellent company of supporting players features Raymond Massey and screen newcomer Geraldine Brooks in other important roles. Based on a story by Rita Weiman, "Possessed" was adapted for the screen by Silvia Richards and Ronald MacDougall and was directed by Curtis Bernhardt for producer Jerry Wald. The film's original music was composed by Franz Waxman. Joseph Valentine, A.S.C., directed the photography.

Driftwood Dog Buttes For Live One

Mrs. E. E. Betts of 1785 Ross Street, at Gonzales Bay, calls the little fellow on the left "Jeeves." He is a piece of driftwood shaped like a dog which was found on the beach by Mrs. Betts and then painted. It is not carved at all. "Jeeves," pictured here with live dog "Bambi," is just one of many shapes and sizes of driftwood found on the beach by Mrs. Betts and then painted as the shape of the wood suggests.

Oak Bay Books 'Lady In The Lake'

Film actor Lloyd Nolan, featured with Robert Montgomery and Audrey Trotter in the mystery drama, "Lady in the Lake," current attraction at the Oak Bay Theatre, epitomizes the tough, ruthless gangster or the cynical, hard-boiled cop. Off the screen, Nolan is one of Hollywood's most erudite and polished gentlemen. His movie roles generally require him to use his fists more often than his brains. In real life the only time he uses his brawn is when he swats the little white pill down the fairway of the Beverly Hills Golf Club.

Stan Kenton, "Artist in Rhythm," will bring his orchestra here for a personal appearance Oct. 15.

Blue Bombers, Argos Appear Headed For Grey Cup Final

With Winnipeg Blue Bombers sitting in their accustomed spot atop western Canada football, the east's senior squads today faced the tough, ruthless gangster or the cynical, hard-boiled cop. Off the screen, Nolan is one of Hollywood's most erudite and polished gentlemen. His movie roles generally require him to use his fists more often than his brains. In real life the only time he uses his brawn is when he swats the little white pill down the fairway of the Beverly Hills Golf Club.

The Bombers, western finalists twice running, became heavy favorites to repeat by turning in their fourth straight league victory during the week-end while the Argos, who beat them both times, enhanced their chances of defending the crown by turning back Montreal Alouettes, 10 to 6.

With schedules just turning into the second half and playoffs to follow, the trail still was long for both Bombers and Argonauts, particularly the Argos amid the heavier opposition in the east's two leagues.

In their own Big Four circuit, Argos face a tough opponent in Ottawa. The Rough Riders, defeated 8 to 0 by Toronto the previous Saturday, showed they had regained their scoring punch by walloping the last-place Hamilton Tigers, 33 to 12, at Ottawa Saturday to keep on top of the league standings — two points ahead of Argos—with five victories against one loss.
